Card drifts in from vacationist with Reno dateline and a Tahoe picture. The illustration was selected to express the writer's feelings toward a couple of fellows who are employed in the same office. There is a precipitous cliff shown on the souvenir card, and the writer wished that both Santa Ana associates were there so she could dispose of them at the same time. Nice loving attitude? The evidence is being filed for future accusation.

Another last we forget card comes from Alaska, in which the writer becomes eloquent about the scenic coastline, and when he gets home he will probably reminisce about the cost-line. You can't have a vacation without paying for it, and if you get your money's worth out of scenery that's some compensation. The correct answer has given me an idea for an economical vacation. I'll have all those who send me cards go into detail as to their historical value, and by the time they are through I'll have made a world cruise that will be cheaper than the dollar line.

And then there was the fellow who, after getting packing house reports on his orange shipments, felt like calling the Major Disaster Committee.

Visit to Laguna Beach last Wednesday evening recalled a trip to that place in 1905. The town has changed but the waves are still beating against the shoreline with the same velocity which drove me back to Santa Ana. It wasn't very good medicine for a fellow on the border of a nervous breakdown.

News from Ventura county says another bug is infesting fruit life. Oh, well, what's the speed limit, scientists, or at least some of them, claim the bugs will finally get us. Several friends have already been driven from house and home by ants.

Slight change in autoist attitude with respect to the court-house annex safety lane. Two cars stopped for me and many others did not. Tried it out this morning to see if there had been any improvement. There is that thing about an accident that point. The car won't have to go so far to get you.

Street department is smoothing out the rough spots in parts of the city pavement, so the riding will be easier for the fellow who wants to exceed the speed limit, and that makes the pedestrian going that much harder.

Those waste paper receptacles at convenient corners in the business district are there for your convenience. Lot of folk do not care for convenience, so they throw the waste paper in the curb which makes the city dirty looking to visitors and also the home folk. The street sweeper picks up the paper after dark, but most people get their impression of the city during daylight. If you prefer to live in a dirty city, throwing waste into the street will meet your ideas; but you might stop to think that there are others who have a preference for cleanliness.

I've two Coco-Cola rain checks to my credit, but I cannot remember the places where the credentials are to be recognized. Will the supporting parties to this pledge give the old memory an impulse so I can ease the thirst?

If there was some way to get canned heat off the desert and release it in the orchards during the winter, the smudge problem might be settled. This is only a suggestion. It hasn't any merit to it. The best proposition has (See SKINNY, Page 2)

Says WPA Strike Planned in County Under Red Chiefs

A withering blast from the pen of an Orange county woman editor today struck the Workers' Alliance of Costa Mesa, alleged Communist-led relief workers' organization. Expelled from the Alliance's Monday night meeting and forbidden to attend future gatherings, Mrs. Nell Murbarger, editor of the Costa Mesa Globe-Herald, said today she was at a loss to understand the group's attitude. Publicity in her newspaper, she added, had previously been much appreciated by the union.

NELL MURBARGER
Fighting Woman Editor

Costa Mesa's Alliance group is virtually a WPA workers' union, Mrs. Murbarger said, affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization. It favors strikes as a method of raising WPA wages, and plans a demonstration in Orange county this month as a protest against proposed WPA personnel cuts.

TELLS OF BOYCOTT

Costa Mesa merchants have been the target of a general boycott of union members, the editor said, "because of their failing to show proper respect and appreciation toward relief money."

WPA must be forced to pay union wages, according to one of the Alliance's demands, and WPA must be made a permanent feature. Mrs. Murbarger quoted as another objective of the group. Margaret Corson, member of the executive board, was charged by Mrs. Murbarger with being secretary of the Communist party in Southern California. Rex Corson, another board member, is also a Communist, she said.

Ousted from Hall

Today's issue of the Globe-Herald contains Mrs. Murbarger's charges. Following is what she told The Journal:

"I have attended meetings of the Workers' Alliance, local 15, which maintains headquarters in Costa Mesa, for the past four months. During this time I have been on a friendly basis with all of the members and apparently accepted as one of them. I have been generous in the use of space in the Globe-Herald to advertise their money-raising affairs and that this was appreciated I knew, because on several occasions they gave me votes of thanks and at the meeting of July 12 gave a rising (See RELIEF GROUP, Page 7)

4TH JUVENILE SEX ARREST

Another crimes-against-children case appeared in Orange county today when Walt Terrel, route 1, box 15-A, Anaheim, was arraigned in Fullerton justice of the peace court charged with contributing to the delinquency of two minor girls.

Complaint against Terrel was signed by Lewis Lemke, route 1, box 15, Placentia, the father of the two girls, 10 and 12 years old. Terrel's conduct with the children was not revealed.

Terrel will appear for a preliminary hearing on July 28 before Judge Halsey I. Spence. He was placed in the county jail in lieu of $2000 bail.

The case is the fourth of the kind in the county this month.

6 CREMATED IN BLAZING CAR

PRIEST BRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Six persons were burned to death in a flaming auto here early today after a truck struck their parked passenger car and turned it over. A seventh died later of his injuries.

The truck driver rescued a seven-year-old boy by pulling him through a window of the car. The others, all members of one family, were tangled in the back of the machine and could not free themselves.

The dead were Bernard Lammert, 21, driver of the car; his three sisters, Mildred, 19, Anna May, 13, and Pauline 29; and his two cousins Frances Baker, 17, Francis Baldwin, 14, and David Manning, 7. All lived in Laurel, Md.

Dick Arlen to Build Boats at Newport Beach

Richard Arlen, wavy-haired screen hero, went into the boat-building business at Newport Beach today.

Arlen was listed as one of five stockholders in the Western Boat company, which filed articles of incorporation in the county clerk's office. The company is capitalized at $50,000 worth of $5 shares.

Arlen's address was given as 10025 Toluca Lake, North Hollywood. Other stockholders were listed as Daniel A. Hill, Pasadena, and Raymond Paquet, E. T. Stephens and Bruce T. Work, Los Angeles.

SPY SYSTEM EXPOSED IN FRUIT CASE

Mills Citrus Hearing Winds Up in 'Draw'

An espionage system involving a former deputy sheriff who spied on citrus inspectors and hints that someone tampered with assertedly frozen oranges stored under court order yesterday wound up in a blaze of glory in superior court hearing as state officials and Anaheim orange packers "called it a draw."

The oranges in question, 923 packed boxes which were the center of a three-day court battle, will be reconducted. Criminal charges are still pending against several packers, however. Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe and Defense Attorney S. B. Kaufman stipulated to reconducting of the fruit under supervision.

TELLS OF ESPIONAGE

The case was suspended after Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames heard Sam Snodgrass, former deputy sheriff, testify that he was hired by Edward W. Mills, Anaheim citrus packer, to spy on state inspectors.

Snodgrass, questioned by McCabe, said Mills hired him several months ago. His duties, he explained, consisted of watching state inspectors and labor conditions, and included standing by the door of the county garage, next door to the sheriff's office, and checking county inspectors' cars as they drove out. Then, he said, he called packinghouses and warned them that officers were on the way.

Tightrope also injected mystery into the case when he testified (See CITRUS TRIAL, Page 2)

OCEAN RESCUE HERO HONORED

SAN PEDRO, (AP)—Captain Hugh McKinnon, now skipper of the tanker Eclipse, was presented with a loving cup from the Norwegian government for the rescue of 16 passengers from a burning steamer in mid-Pacific a year ago last April.

The inscription on the trophy reads: "To Capt. Hugh McKinnon, British S. S. Yarraville, for assistance rendered the Tri-Color of Tonsberg in the Pacific ocean in April 1936."

The Yarraville answered the S O S call of the Tri-Color, a Norwegian vessel bound for the Orient, removing the passengers, including women and children.

BRITAIN TO ARM MERCHANTMEN

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (AP)—Capt. Euan Wallace overseas trade secretary, today outlined Great Britain's new defense plan to arm merchant ships and train their officers.

Wallace told a merchant navy week audience the admiralty has decided to open schools for officers at Liverpool, Glasgow, The Tyne, Southampton, Cardiff and Hull.

Merchant officers will be taught gunnery, fire control, convoy work, signaling and submarine defense, he said. Armament for the merchant navy will be designated by the admiralty.

Escaped Convict's Freedom Ends

His companion in flight killed by police guns, James Rice, escaped Texas convict, held his hands high while Sergeant Buck Mooney of the Arkansas state police covered him with a machine gun after his capture near Monticello, Ark. The man slain was W. H. Bybee. Henry Roberts, who fled with Rice and Bybee, also was captured.

COURT CHANGE UPSETS FDR

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A high administration official represented President Roosevelt today as believing that further legislation than that offered by opponents of his original court bill would be necessary to accomplish his broad court reorganization objectives.

Notwithstanding the action of the senate in killing the administration's court program, the administration spokesman said the President felt some progress has been made toward those objectives.

Meanwhile, senators who fought for five months over the court bill joined amicably today in drafting a skeleton measure to speed up lower federal courts. The new measure will not mention the supreme court. It will authorize increasing the number of lower court judges on the basis of need rather than age.

BOLO BANDITS KILL U. S. MAN

MANILA, P. I. (AP)—A band of masked, bolo-wielding bandits killed Percy A. Hill, American planter, in a raid on his plantation at Munoz Nuevaquia, shortly after sundown tonight.

Hill was a writer, and regarded as an authority on the history and customs of the Philippines.

He was alone with two servants when the bandits appeared. His widow and four children are in Manila. The bandits looted the house after killing him. Whether the servants escaped was not known.

Atlantic Plane Mystery Deepens

NEW YORK, (AP)—The mystery of the phantom Atlantic airplane deepened today.

Speculation among fliers as to the identity of a plane, reported Wednesday night to be winging eastward across the sea 500 miles east of Cape Race, Newfoundland, led nowhere, and the Radio-Marine corporation had no further word from ships at sea.

Vote for Bonds

(Editorial)

Every citizen has a definite patriotic, American duty to perform on election day.

That duty is to go to the polls and vote his honest convictions.

Next Tuesday the people of this county will vote on a $2,500,000 bond issue to pay the county's share of the long dreamed of and hoped for flood control and water conservation program.

The rest of the money—$12,000,000—is being given by the federal government.

Leaders and citizens in every walk of life have hailed the program as an ideal and inexpensive way to secure water, guard against floods and create jobs and prosperity for Orange county.

The Journal conscientiously recommends your favorable vote on the water bonds next Tuesday.

2ND HEAT WAVE HITS MIDWEST

CHICAGO, (AP)—The month's second heat wave rolled eastward over the Middle West today, boosting temperatures to the upper nineties.

The central and southern plains regions were hardest hit. Forecaster J. R. Lloyd of the Chicago weather bureau said there were indications the siege would not last long.

The 12-day heat wave early in July mainly affected the northern tiers of states from the Rockies to the Atlantic and was blamed for nearly 400 deaths.

St. Mary's College Sold at Auction

OAKLAND, (AP)—St. Mary's college, famed for its football teams and rural mortgage campus, was sold at auction today for about 30 cents on the dollar to two San Francisco attorneys.

Raids Tango Spot At Balboa; Plans Gambling Cleanup

Flaying police chiefs and constables for "failing to do their duty," Sheriff Logan Jackson went back to vacationing today after cracking down on a Balboa tango parlor and vowing to "stop gambling in Orange county."

The sheriff emerged from his Laguna vacation last night long enough to direct a squad of seven of his crack deputies in raiding Van's Tango parlor at Balboa, confiscating furniture and equipment under the nose of Newport-Balboa Police Chief R. R. Hodgkinson, whom Jackson ordered on Monday to close all such establishments.

MOTHER KILLS 4 TOTS, SELF

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Marie Walkup, wife of James Walkup, chairman of the Coconino county board of supervisors, strangled and stabbed her four children to death and then shot and killed herself during the night.

Justice of the Peace Max Miller said this morning, following the discovery of the woman's body near the Flagstaff golf course.

The bodies of the children—Danny, 10; Rose Marie, 8; Jackie, 5, and Phoebe, 2, were found in their beds in the family home.

Three of them had been stabbed in the heart twice with an ice pick while they slept, Coroner Miller said, but the fourth, Rose Marie, evidently awoke and put up a struggle.

Dr. M. G. Fronske, family physician, said Mrs. Walkup had been despondent over an intestinal ailment and expressed fear the children had contracted it.

100 GET BONUS AT CREAMERY

More than 100 employees of the Excelsior Creamery company pocketed bonus checks today.

The bonus check handed employees represented the worker's share of the company earnings for the first six months of 1937.

This is the first bonus paid Excelsior employees under a plan inaugurated by W. D. Ranney, president of the company. The payment was made at the end of the first six months instead of waiting until the end of the year.

China-Japan Crisis Passes

TOKYO, (AP)—Japan rapidly returned to normal today as a general belief grew that war with China had been averted and a lasting settlement of the long existing differences between the two countries was near.

A foreign office spokesman said Japan was ready to consider any proposal from the Chinese government to open negotiations for a settlement of the fundamental Sino-Japanese issues and would respond to any change in the Chinese foreign policy.

FEARS GAMBLING WAR

"We don't want anything like the Lester Bruneman shooting which occurred in Los Angeles. That was the result of a gambling war. We are going to stop gambling in Orange county."

The sheriff frequently has tangled with police chiefs of Orange county cities over operation of marble and tango games. Monday, after conferring with Attorney General U. S. Webb on the chip and tango situation at Balboa, Jackson telephoned Chief Hodgkinson and ordered the establishments closed. All were closed, the sheriff reported, except the one tango parlor raided last night.

Taking part in last night's raid were Chief Criminal Deputy Merle Dean, Undersheriff Fred Wilbur, and Deputy Sheriffs G. F. McKelvey, James Musick, James Workman, R. E. Steinberger and A. W. Fullerton.

Will Clean Up Cities

"It is not enough," said the sheriff today, "for an officer to enforce traffic laws and refuse to enforce all the other laws. That is not within the province of an officer. The sheriff's office does not have the manpower to police both the cities and the outside area of the county, but when local officials fail to do their duty, the sheriff must."

Sheriff Jackson also said he would investigate to see if "dame games" are operating at any county beach resorts, following conviction of six youths and a girl in Venice yesterday by Municipal Judge Arthur Guerin. The seven defendants were found guilty of operating a lottery under the guise of a dame game.

Meanwhile the Los Angeles beach area was up in arms over the gambling situation. The South Bay Ministerial association today led action to clean up the resorts following the Bruneman shooting. "It is his duty to have our beautiful communities debauched by organized gambling combines that prey not only on our tourists but upon our sons and daughters," said a spokesman, "but when gunplay and hoodlumism enters the picture it is time for drastic action."

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

No matter how much money a father has, he should make his boy go out and work once in a while just to learn the value of money. I knew a man down home who owned a shoe factory and made a lot of money, but he never made his son work a day in his life, and always gave him all the spending money he wanted.

Finally during the big financial crash the father lost his shoe factory, and his money, too, and had to go back to half-sole shoes at 80 cents a pair. One day the boy walked into his father's cobbler shop and says, "Dad, give me $4; I've got a date tonight."

The old man says, "Son, do you know I have a half sole five pairs of shoes to get $4?" The son says, "Well, I'll wait—go ahead and half sole 'em, but make it snappy!" (Copyright, 1937)

Battle Grasshopper Plague at El Toro

County agricultural officials swung into action today to join ranchers in the El Toro district in a battle against hordes of grasshoppers that have threatened to mow down their bean crops, it was learned today by The Journal.

Although ranchers appear to have emerged victorious in the fight against the voracious pests, Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs sent an inspector to the district today to help bring relief to the threatened area.

Thousands upon thousands of the destructive insects moved through the rich agricultural district, leaving behind them bare ground where beans were growing.

Wide swaths were almost completely denuded of beans and bean plants.

The hungry pests ate the bean plants down to the roots, moving on from row to row. But the threatened plague has been averted at least temporarily through drastic control measures instituted by the ranchers. Tubbs said the usual control method is to scatter poisoned barley in the path of the grasshoppers.

Tubbs said that it might be possible to secure federal money with which to stamp out the pest, if it is used before winter. He said he has learned that federal funds are available for such purposes.

On the ranch of Frank Groover it was necessary to replant a 200-acre patch of beans three times because of the grasshoppers. Groover said the pests were so thick it was impossible to see the ground, and that horses would refuse to work anywhere near them. The rancher said the grasshoppers (See ANIMALS EAT, Page 2)

SHOWDOWN ON ARKANSAS SENATE JOB

End of Week-Old Fight For Position Seen

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (P)—The Democratic state committee to-day nominated Gov. Carl E. Bailey for the U. S. senate vacancy created by the death of Joseph T. Robinson.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (P)—The week-old controversy on the method of selecting a Democratic nominee to succeed Senator Joseph T. Robinson came up for a decision today before the party's state committee.

A bitter fight impended on the question of whether the candidate should be nominated by the committee or a primary be called.

Those favoring a primary charged the committee planned to give the nomination to 42-year-old Gov. Carl E. Bailey. Nine of the committee's 35 members are state employees, appointed since he took office.

State Representative C. O. Raley and others advocating committee nomination said the party has no funds to hold a primary.

I'm interested if oil is found west of Anaheim, but I will be more interested if it is discovered two miles east of Anaheim. Make it North street, to be more specific.

It will take more than a painter to convince me that "Xign" spells crossing. This abbreviation with an X thrown in appears at occasional intersections and on highways. While it attracts attention, and I presume occasional obedience, it isn't official from the spelling standpoint.

Tourist who has sent in several insinuation cards will get a fine home-coming if the recipient of one of the missives is able to complete his organization. When "Tourist" arrives the reception committee won't be there.

"Doc" Jones delivers three copies of the "Dealer News and Retail Petroleum Dealer," and one of the "National Oil Derrick," somewhat of an unequal division. Wayne Goble, formerly of Santa Ana, has changed his affiliation from the "National Oil Derrick" to the "Dealer News" plus. Wayne used to get the "Oil Derrick" up in time for me to see if there was any oil activity in the vicinity of Atascadero, but recently failed to deliver, and I wondered why until "Doc" explained the mystery. Betty Goble is making good in a Shirley Temple picture, and if Wayne strikes oil everything will be sliding along smoothly.

Change British Divorce Laws

LONDON. (P)—A 25-year fight to liberalize Britain's divorce laws ended today with parliamentary enactment of a law whereby cruelty, desertion for three years, and insanity for five years, became grounds for divorce. Adultery hitherto was the only cause for divorce in Britain. Royal assent, given automatically, is the remaining formality for putting the law into effect.

High Hats to Expose Brows; High Skirts Also Slated

CHICAGO. (P)—Skirts, to be fashionable, will be shorted this fall. Fourteen inches from the floor will be the approved length, Miss Esther Bradford, Chicago stylist, said today, while 16 inches would be "quite daring."

Hats will have higher crowns and be worn generally off the face, exposing the brow, and some waistlines will be higher.

Models presented contrasts and comparisons with styles of 100 years ago.

A daytime frock of green brocade of the 1937 pre-hoop skirt era had a deep bertha collar of lace, full puffed sleeves and was worn with numerous starched petticoats.

Two models wore nightgowns of 1837 and 1837. The former, of silk, was trimmed with much lace and was daintily décolleté. The nightgown of 100 years ago was long, had long full sleeves, a cape collar, abundant lace under a night cap.

Miss Bradford said it constituted about three times as much material as milady wears on the street today.

PREDICT N. Y. MAYOR BATTLE

NEW YORK. (P)—Tammany Hall's endorsement of United States Senator Royal S. Copeland for mayor over dapper Grover A. Whalen, nominee for Democratic organizations in the four boroughs outside Manhattan, today forecast one of the bitterest primary battles in New York City's political history.

A campaign with the New Deal as a paramount issue was assured when supporters of ailing chief James J. Dooley, backing Copeland, overrode Whalen adherents by a vote of 15-12 to 8-5-12 after two hours of acrimonious debate behind locked doors in the historic wigwam.

Whalen, world's fair head and a vigorous New Dealer, has the support of Democratic leaders in Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond boroughs who are friendly to Postmaster General James A. Farley. Copeland, supported by former Governor Alfred E. Smith, has opposed many Roosevelt administration measures, including the late court bill.

CITRUS TRIAL ENDS IN DRAW

(Continued From Page 1) yesterday afternoon that after the fruit had been stored under court order, seals on the doors of the precoolers had been broken.

DEFENDANTS PAY COSTS Under terms of the stipulations which ended the court hearings, Mills, A. J. Miller, Alex Jones, and other growers and packers, will pay court costs amounting to $50. The fruit is to be reconditioned at Von's Citrus X-ray house, a neutral concern, under supervision of Hightower and Inspector M. T. Walsworth.

During reconditioning, Mills, Inspector N. P. Byrd, and others involved in arguments over the fruit must stay away. After reconditioning, the fruit is to be taken back to the Western Fruit Growers house, where it was seized, and inspected and repacked. Then, Judge Ames said, he will dismiss the case.

Miller, Jones, and Mills, however, still face criminal charges in Anaheim justice court as the result of their asserted attempt to ship the fruit. They are charged with violating state agricultural code regulations on that subject. Mills also faces additional charges of the same variety in Pomona.

167 Absentee Ballots Issued

One hundred sixty-seven Orange county voters will cast their ballots on the flood control bonds Tuesday without visiting the polls. County Clerk Backs announced today that many absentee ballots had been issued by his office when the period expired at 5 p. m. yesterday. Absentee ballots will be counted a week from Monday when supervisors canvass the vote, provided all are in. Otherwise it will be several days later.

PUSH HAIRCUT PLAN DESPITE COURT ORDER

Local Barbers Map Price Fixing Move

Despite an adverse appellate court ruling today on a Bakersfield barbers' price-fixing ordinance, Santa Ana barbers went ahead today with plans for a price and hour law here.

The local law is being drawn under a brand new act of the legislature, signed last month by Gov. Frank Merriam, while the Bakersfield ordinance was under the old state law which has been found unconstitutional.

A. J. Kazas, Bakersfield barber, was granted a writ of habeas corpus today by the fourth district court of appeals, sitting in San Diego. He was arrested when he charged only 25 cents for a haircut, contrary to a 35-cent minimum established by the ordinance.

B. Z. McKinney, attorney for the local barbers, who is drawing up a city ordinance setting a 50-cent minimum haircut price and hours of 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. week days, and 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturdays, said today he would study the Bakersfield case ruling, but believed it would have no effect on the local ordinance, which may be presented to the city council Monday night.

Deuel Discusses Farm Legislation

Two newly passed state bills, defining the trucking rights of individual farmers and co-operative non-profit making marketing organizations, were discussed last night in a meeting between J. J. Deuel, director of the law and utilities department of the California Farm Bureau Federation, and various county agricultural leaders.

These two acts, Deuel said, require the Railroad Commission to use the lowest rate between two points where more than one type of carrier is used, rather than the highest, which was in effect under the old law.

"This should make it possible," Deuel explained, "to establish more equitable and reasonable permanent rates in the series of agricultural rate cases coming before the commission this summer and fall."

Supply Workers Spurn CIO Bid

LOS ANGELES. (P)—The Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate, has been rejected by employees of the National Supply Co. as their bargaining agent.

The national labor relations board announced yesterday 36% of the 688 valid votes cast in an election favored independent organization of plant employees. The company manufactures oil field equipment.

Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West of Santa Ana will meet Sunday at 1 p. m. at the Knights of Columbus hall to rehearse for installation ceremonies with members of San Bernardino chapter.

DEATH RAINS ON MADRID FROM SKY

Grimness of War Felt As Insurgents Attack

MADRID. (P)—Twice shelled within 24 hours and with at least 15 killed and a score injured by the insurgents' big guns, Madrid was abruptly thrown back today to the grimness of a bitter siege.

After two weeks of comparative calm while a tornado of offensive and counter-offensive raged over the hills and plains some 15 miles to the west, Madrid was jolted into sharp realization that a besieging army still was at her gates.

After a long artillery duel last night, confined to the outskirts of the capital, shells started dropping in Alcala street and Cibeles square.

One projectile killed eight persons. Great splashes of blood were still visible this morning on the pavement near the old ministry of war before workmen started scrubbing the sidewalk and clearing away the debris.

Artillery and aerial bombardments yesterday at Madrid and two small towns in Central Spain took more than 60 lives and brought injuries to more than 150 persons. With today's shelling of the capital seven more deaths were reported.

AMATEUR GOLF ENLISTS 621

NEW YORK. (P)—Defending Champion Johnny Fischer and 620 other golfers from Maine to California have filed entries for this year's national amateur championship, to be played Aug. 23 to 28 at the Alderwood Country club in Portland, Ore. The United States Golf association announced today.

Of these 621 entries, five in addition to Fischer will not have to take part in the sectional qualifying rounds. All past titleholders are automatically qualified. They are Francis Ouimet, winner in 1914 and 1931; Charles (Chick) Evans, jr., champion in 1916 and 1920; Jesse Guifford, winner in 1923; Max R. Marston, champion in 1923, and C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, the Canadian who won the title at Baltimore in 1932.

Farm Tenant Bill Approved

WASHINGTON. (P)—President Roosevelt signed today legislation authorizing the federal government to embark upon a program to assist tenants and sharecroppers to acquire farm homes.

The bill, which followed general recommendations of the chief executive made to congress early in the session, authorizes the agriculture department to make liberal loans to thrifty tenants for purchase of farms.

It would allow $10,000,000 this year, $25,000,000 in the 1938 fiscal year and $50,000,000 annually thereafter for such loans.

Girl in 'Gossip Shooting' Blamed by Chum's Mother

COUSHATTA, La. (P)—The fatal "gossip shooting" of pretty May Elvin Allen, 17, had an airing in court today at the preliminary hearing of Jessie Pepper, also 17, accused of killing her life-long friend.

May Elvin was shot July 5 during a cow pasture quarrel on the plantation where the Allens and Peppers lived side by side. Ready to press the murder charge against Jessie were May Elvin's father and mother, who told a coroner's jury the argument preceding the shooting arose when Mrs. Allen accused Jessie and her mother of "telling lies on Elvin."

"Elvin spent a month with her Uncle Bill in Vivian," Mrs. Allen told the coroner's jury. "Jessie told that Elvin had a baby when she told Elvin's fellow, Percy Methvin."

Tricycle Traveler Uses Alarm Clock

SCOTTSELUFF, Neb. (P)—Mother's necessity made father an inventor in the Robert W. Patterson home here.

It used to be Robert Culver Patterson, 4, would wander far down the street on his tricycle and his mother would call in vain for him to return.

Father attached a small alarm clock to Robert Culver's tricycle. Mother sets it before Robert Culver goes adventuring. When the alarm rings, Robert Culver rides back home.

ANIMALS EAT COUNTY CROPS

hoppers came in such numbers that there were about 265 grasshoppers to the square foot.

Grasshoppers are not the only pests that worry the ranchers in the El Toro district. A Journal survey revealed. There are deer, coyotes and squirrels that make raising of crops difficult.

Deer are a costly pest. Ranchers are reported to be clamoring to officials for relief from the situation, which has resulted in destroying many acres of beans each year. The deer, it seems, are extremely fond of tender young beans.

Nimrods were warned by El Toro district property owners, however, that hunting will not be tolerated on the ranches. Too many hunters, it was said, are unable to tell a steer from a deer with the result that many cattle have fallen victims to bullets.

Raymond Prothero, rancher, expressed the belief that it would be a good idea to let hunters kill the deer for a year or so to reduce the number of deer which munch on their beans. He expressed the opinion that there are more than 5000 does between here and San Diego county, but comparatively few bucks.

Squirrels are thick this year, it was reported, and have cost the ranchers considerable money for rodent control work in destruction of crops.

Coyotes are getting bolder and bolder. Ranchers reported that the number of coyotes is mounting every year. Wild animals have killed so many turkeys and chickens that many ranchers say they plan to stop raising chickens and turkeys for the coyotes to gobble up.

ASKS ORANGE SUGAR RATIO BE CHANGED

Anaheim Man Claims Present Law Unfair

Orange growers who ran into fruit inspection difficulties following last winter's freeze found a new leader on a different tack today as L. M. Banks of Santa Ana, Anaheim spot cash operator, asked a campaign for revision of the sugar content law.

"The law governing the sugar and acid test on Orange county Valencia," Banks said in his report to growers who deal with him, "should be changed back to where it was in 1933."

LAW CALLED UNFAIR

"Many valencias are so late in arriving at the 8 to 1 sugar content," Banks said, "that they show granulation before they test. It is natural for valencias to carry a heavier acid content than navel, yet the law is the same. This law is unfair; it was very likely recommended by the navel men up-country, anyway, it is on the books and the growers should group together and make a strong protest to their assemblyman and state senator and also to the federal pure food department."

"Some day the growers will wake up when they have lost their crop through negligence in allowing this present maturity clause to remain in the law. A freeze you cannot prevent, but a bad law can be changed."

SAYS INSPECTOR FAIR

Other packinghouse men and growers have protested against the work of state and county inspectors, contending they were too strict in condemning assertedly frost-damaged fruit.

"It is true," Banks said, "that the state inspectors who had charge of the Anaheim houses were very strict and careful in their inspections but from our observations were fair and did not do exactly what they were hired to do by the state."

"If inspections were more lenient in other places it does not necessarily follow that our inspections were too strict. It might be that the lenient ones were too lenient for the good of the industry. It is a short-sighted policy to make a few dollars today and thereby lose 10 times as much tomorrow."

MASONS HEAD FOR SAN DIEGO

Seven candidates for Santa Ana Chapter No. 73 of Royal Arch Masons will accompany a party of approximately 30 chapter members to San Diego tomorrow when Darius chapter of that city will be host to 1500 Capital Masons of Southern California and Arizona at its sixth annual ceremony at Mt. Helix tomorrow night.

Local men who will receive the degree with 90 other candidates are Walter Cook, Joe Warner, Robert Keller, Plummer Bruns, Benjamin Livesey, John Garthe, and George Wheeler. Reservations for the group of Santa Anans who will attend are being handled by J. E. Walker, high priest.

More than 150 subordinate chapters will participate in this year's Mt. Helix event, to which all Royal Arch Masons are invited. It will honor Delos A. Mace, grand high priest of California, and will be attended by many national Masonic figures, among them Mattison Boyd Jones, general grand high priest of the United States.

According to Walker, the program is the most sublime presentation of Masonic ritual, depicting the period during the latter years of the reign of King David, and culminating with the coronation of King Solomon and the dedication of Solomon's temple.

CHECK FORGER, WANTED HERE, HELD IN S. F.

Victimized 4 Local Merchants This Week

A check forger—one of the "smoothest" in United States criminal history—who early this week tricked four Santa Ana merchants out of $76.18, yesterday finally was arrested in San Francisco.

The man, L. E. Broderick, former San Quentin and Folsom convict, is wanted by approximately 100 Pacific coast cities including Huntington Beach, Anaheim and Santa Ana, where he has cashed checks under some 400 aliases.

So many charges are against him, Detective Lieut. C. W. Wolford, who has been working on the local cases, said today, that it would be possible for him to spend the rest of his life in court.

Probably he will never be returned to Orange county for trial, Wolford said.

PHONE DOCTOR

His activities here began on July 6 when he walked into the service station of G. W. Bassett, at 701 North Main street, and cashed a $18 check, saying that he was Dr. Amos Henderson, and that his wife was a regular customer at the station.

Here he displayed the cleverness which has kept him one step ahead of the law for over a year. Bassett said that the man was dressed in a grey suit, was wearing a Shiner's pin and had the appearance of a successful doctor. He inspired such confidence in his victims that he was never asked to show identification.

On July 15 Broderick posed as a doctor again, and succeeded in getting G. W. Slater, 320 South Main street, to cash another $18 check. This time he said he was Dr. Roy Howard.

The next day he tried another often employed ruse and was successful. He bought $10 worth of linoleum from F. Russell Hardecastle, 109 East Seventh street, and gave a $32.25 check for payment. He was given his change in cash.

SENT OUT PICTURES

Then on July 19 he went to another service station at 1601 North Main street, where he bought a tire for $10.82. Asking the station to deliver the tire to an address which later was found to be fictitious, he presented a check signed by E. W. Henderson for $31.75, and was given his change in cash.

When reports of these fictitious checks began to come into the police here, Detective Wolford decided that it was the work of Broderick who was wanted in many other cities.

Wolford had printed 400 pictures of the suspect and sent them to Santa Ana stores and service stations. Bassett immediately identified Broderick as the man who had given him the check for a tire.

He Had Numbers Of Stolen Bills

Milton Yarnell, orderly at the Orange county hospital, had been a thief victim before, and he thought himself well prepared for any future losses.

His preparedness, however, was not enough to keep $16 in bills from disappearing from a drawer in his room at the hospital yesterday, but it was enough to help sheriff's deputies in an attempt to run down the thief. Yarnell had carefully recorded the serial numbers on all the greenbacks that were stolen.

STARTS 75-DAY TERM

Roy Burdue, 836 North Zion street, Anaheim, today began a 75-day sentence for drunken driving while a Tustin man, facing the same charge, followed him through the door of the county jail.

Martin Olivera, of Trabuco, the other jailed man, was arrested in Tustin. His bail was set at $250.

POSTS $500 BOND

Ralph L. Reade, arrested by sheriff's deputies in Orange yesterday and charged with issuing checks with intent to defraud, last night posted $500 bond. Reade was arrested on a warrant from Judge C. C. Cravath's court in Laguna Beach.

FENDER DENTED

A dented fender was the only damage incurred when cars driven by Ludwig Schmidt, 220 Backus avenue, and Lillie E. Johnson, route 3, Anaheim, collided on Newport boulevard south of Santa Ana late yesterday.

Police Recover Stolen Auto Before Owner Finds Theft

A noisy telephone bell roused a Los Angeles man at 5 o'clock this morning.

"This is the Anaheim police department," said Sgt. James Pifer. "Do you know where your car is?" "Sure I do," growled the sleepy man. "It's in my garage."

Pifer persuaded him to have a look. The car wasn't there, and Anaheim police booked three men on suspicion of auto theft and one of them on an additional count of drunk driving.

John Felix Hendren, 23, was arrested by Sergeant Pifer and Officer G. E. Rude early today in Anaheim on drunk driving charges, and Dallas J. Bruce, 23, and Edward R. Fogleman were held on suspicion of auto theft after the Anaheim officers checked the car's registration with Los Angeles police. The three prisoners gave Anaheim addresses.

EXTORTION PLOT JAILS 2 SUSPECTS

Claim $1000 Sought
From Fullerton Man

An extortion plot against a Fullerton trucker had fizzled today, as two youths were in the county jail awaiting preliminary hearing next Thursday on charges of attempted extortion.

Joe Basabe, 26, and Frank McConaughy, 24, both of Fullerton, were jailed yesterday by Anaheim police. They are accused by John Wollenman, Fullerton, with having telephoned him and instructed him to mail $1000 in $20 bills to general delivery, Pomona.

McConaughy, former employe of the victim, was arrested in the Pomona postoffice yesterday as he appeared and gave a change of address for "C. E. Parker," the name given in the telephone call. He confessed, Police Chief James Bouldin said, and implicated Basabe.

Basabe was arrested late yesterday by Officers Fay Barnett and Earl Vipond, who spotted his car from McConaughy's description. Basabe, Sergeant James Pifer said, confessed taking part in the plot and said he and McConaughy were to "split" any money they obtained.

The prisoners were arraigned late yesterday before City Judge Frank Tausch and brought to jail here in lieu of $10,000 bail each. They will have preliminary hearing next Thursday.

'Every Main Street Akin to Wall'

WASHINGTON. (AP)—There's not much difference between Wall street and Main street, in the opinion of Representative Martin of Colorado, when it comes to financial practices.

During a house committee discussion of legislation designed to curb so-called "investor exploitation" practices in corporate reorganizations, frequent references were made by the Coloradoan to Wall street.

"When I say Wall street," he explained, "I do not refer to New York alone. Every Main street has a little bit of Wall street about it."

'Blizzard' Pure American Word

CHICAGO. (American Wire)—The new Dictionary of American English, published recently, reveals that "blizzard" is a 100 per cent American word. As early as 1770 New Englanders called sudden rainstorms "blizzards," "blizzers" and "blizzoms." It took 100 years for the word to appear in printed records in the meaning of a violent snowstorm.

Airfield's Safety Depends on Length

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Airfields should be 3500 feet long at sea level to provide safe landing for large transport planes, says the bureau of air commerce.

At higher altitudes, where the air is thinner, fields should be longer. Landing avenues should be 150 feet wide, and should be paved or made of hard sod, according to the prevailing weather.

SIDI-BEL-ABBES, Algeria. (AP) Men of the French Foreign Legion who shirk their afternoon naps do so at the risk of a week in prison.

Orders are that the siesta custom must be observed. Any soldier evading the nap may be clapped into prison.

The hours of the compulsory siesta are from 11 to 3 o'clock. The North African sun is so hot that officers consider the nap necessary for health.

They were killed when their automobile crashed through a guard rail late yesterday and plunged 300 feet to the rocky beach, 15 miles south of here.

Yacht Crew in Role of Heroes

KAY BEACH, B. C. (American Wire)—A pleasure yacht may have a useful purpose as well, villagers here thankfully agreed today.

Members of the crew grabbed a hose, rushed ashore, and put out the fire.

Sumatra Birds Outclass Hens

NEW YORK. (American Wire)—American chickens are completely outclassed by a strange bird, the Maleo, of which the National Geographic society-Smithsonian Institution, will bring several representatives when it returns from Sumatra this summer. They are half as large as chickens, but lay eggs 10 times the volume of hen's eggs.

Feed Elephants In Courses

NEW YORK. (American Wire)—Elephant feeding is an all day job, because elephants prefer to be fed in courses, according to a bulletin issued by the New York Zoological society. They apparently get tired of looking at their hay if too much is put in their stall at one time, the bulletin states. An elephant eats about 100 pounds of hay during a day.

HIGHER PAY SEEN FOR WORKERS

Two I. A. Industries to Better Conditions

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Prospects for better pay and working conditions for employees in two industries developed yesterday.

A meeting of 200 independent owner-members of the United Retail Meat Dealers' association decided upon a tentative program of benefits for employees of Los Angeles meat markets. The majority of the owners favored a six day week with hours from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and shops closed on holidays, and possible pay increases for meat cutters.

Luggage and trunk shop employers agreed at a conference with Regional Director Towne Nylander of the national labor board to negotiate with the luggage, trunk and leather workers' union. Nineteen workers of the National Trunk and Luggage company, on strike two weeks, returned to work under an agreement providing a closed shop, 40 hour week and a 15 per cent pay boost.

Factory to Aid Area With Over Half on Relief

JARROW, England (American Wire)—This area, long depressed since the closing of the Palmer shipyards, one of the best known in the world, has taken on new activity with the announcement of the erection here of a one million pound steel plant.

For some years more than 60 per cent of the population here has been unemployed and relief has failed to solve the problem. The new steel plant is being made possible by a loan from the British government, and aid from the Bankers' Industrial Development Co., the Nuffield Trustees and the Consett Iron Co.

Costs Cut for Naval Projects

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The senate naval committee has proposed a $15,000,000 reduction in the Navy's planned $21,000,000 shore construction program.

A committee amendment removed the entire Oakland project from the measure.

Officials at headquarters here said they had been advised the dead were Lee Coy and Ran Van Sickle, sawyers at a lumber camp. High Death Rate Laid to Emigrants

BAKERSFIELD. (AP)—Kern county has an infant mortality rate 23.6 per cent higher than the national average per thousand because of inadequate housing conditions and migration of agricultural labor from the mid-west, Dr. Joe Smith, county health officer, said today.

He is urging more sanitary and adequate camps for the migrants.

WORRY OVER ITINERANTS THIS WINTER

Plenty of Farm Work For Summer Months

BAKERSFIELD, (AP)—There is farm work now for most of the 60,000 itinerants who have flocked to California, but county and state officials express concern about what will happen this winter. More potential indigents are coming into the state every day from Oklahoma, Missouri, Colorado, Arkansas and Texas.

Those who are working in the fields, earning $2.75 to $3 a day, are not worried. They dance and sing at night and in their spare time, if they can hold on for three years, they will become eligible for the state dole.

"You can't change the habits of primitive people from southern and middle western states," said Mrs. John Pratt, Tulare county welfare director. "You can't force them to bathe or eat vegetables."

For that matter few camps have bathing facilities. Some of the ranchers have built small cottages for migratory workers, but most camps are groups of tents or other makeshift shelters. Outbreaks of typhoid fever, infantile paralysis, diphtheria and the less serious diseases, like measles, whooping cough and mumps, are a constant threat.

Dr. Joe Smith, Kern county health officer, said the infant mortality rate in this county was 23.6 above the nation's average because of inadequate housing conditions for migratory laborers. Most of the wandering 50,000 are here in the San Joaquin valley, which grows cotton, grapes, figs, peaches and sugar beets on a large scale. Cotton picking will end in October and from then until spring little farm work will be available.

Los Angeles county, which has little farm work to offer, complains of being overstocked with indigents. Gov. Frank Merriam plans a conference on the indigent problem in Los Angeles next week.

Grasshoppers Refuse Salts Bait

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Farmers of Okanagan valley are trying their own brands of grasshopper poison as the result of failure of Epom salts to lure the pests to their death.

Attempting to develop a bait fatal to grasshoppers but not to cattle, the provincial department of agriculture set out mixtures of salts, bran and molasses. Watchers reported that in the first 24 hours not a single grasshopper sampled the bait.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP)—Utilities, in addition to a few other widely scattered issues, provided the supporting base for today's stock market.

The list got off at a fast upward clip, with motors and steels in the lead. The rush slowed down almost as quickly as it began, and initial gains of fractions to two points were reduced or replaced with losses in many instances.

The ticket tape frequently was at a standstill. Closing prices:

vote of thanks and said they owed much of the success of their organization to the excellent publicity I had given them in the Globe-Herald.

"Just what happened to change their attitude I don't know, but when I appeared at the meeting this week, July 19, the vice-chairman, Ken Corson, who was presiding, ordered the sergeant at arms to inspect my papers, knowing that I was not a member nor even eligible for membership. When I could not produce papers of a member in good standing I was ordered removed from the hall and forbidden to attend future meetings.

SAYS STRIKE PLANNED

"The Workers' Alliance is a Communist organization, affiliated with the C. I. O. and opposed to the A. F. of L. They favor strikes as a method of raising WPA wages and are planning on staging a demonstration in Orange county before Aug. 1 as the protest to the proposed WPA cuts in personnel."

New election of officers is to be held next Monday. At the present time the official board is composed of Ed Stevenson, 193 East Eighteenth street, Costa Mesa, president; Ken Corson, vice president; Roy Hicks, recording secretary; Rachel Hicks, financial secretary; Charles Owens, sergeant at arms; executive board, Ed Stevenson, Ken Corson, Roy Hicks, J. A. McDonald, John Ford, Rex Corson and Margaret Corson.

"It is known that the Workers' Alliance was directly responsible for the WPA strike in San Francisco earlier in the year. At the May 10 meeting, Mrs. Roberts, a member of the Santa Ana local, reported before the Costa Mesa group that she took a grievance to Dan Mulherron, county WPA chief, and in the course of conversation, Mulherron said 'If anyone should ask you if I am against the Workers' Alliance, the answer is "NO." I am for it 100 per cent. This was cheered loudly.

"At the time when Fallert said that men on relief must accept private jobs or go hungry, the Alliance rose in wrath against this plan. Rex Corson reported that certain county newspapers had been playing up the idea of ranchers not being able to get field labor. 'This publicity,' he said, 'is very detrimental to our cause and must be stopped.'

WANT PERMANENT WPA

"One of the Alliance demands is that men with trades not be forced to accept agricultural labor and that all WPA jobs pay union wages. They also demand that the WPA be made a permanent feature.

"Two weeks ago it was voted and passed that Alliance members call a general boycott of Costa Mesa merchants because of their failing to show proper respect and appreciation toward relief money. It was further stated that the average person's attitude that relief money was not as honorably come by as that earned in private industry, was intolerable and must be stopped."

Mrs. Murbarger also quoted the battle song of the group, said to have been locally written. Following is the last verse:

"America the beautiful from sea to shining sea.

Is packed with wealth for everyone, there's lots for you and me;

But you will have to organize to win securities—

For in union there is strength. Solidarity forever.

Solidarity forever. Solidarity forever.

For the union makes us strong."

Hold Your Nose; Awful Odors Coming to U. S.

DRESDEN, Germany. (AP)—Some awful smells are being prepared for a journey to the United States, along with a gigantic glass ear and a transparent man who speaks English. They are part of a big exhibit made in the German Museum of Hygiene for the Oberaender Trust and the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation.

The big glass ear is so constructed that one can see clearly how the membranous labyrinth operates to maintain the equilibrium of its owner.

One of the oddest displays is the "smell table," equipped to demonstrate the six basic odors perceptible by man. Compressed-air atomizing and mixing devices enable the operator to produce any desired (or undesired) smell at a moment's notice.

Skinned Knee Spoils Party for Little Princess

LONDON. (AP)—Eleven-year-old Princess Elizabeth, heiress presumptive to the British throne, had to stay away from the Buckingham palace garden party today because she fell from her bicycle and skinned her knee.

However, her younger sister, Princess Margaret Rose, went to the party which the king and queen gave for 10,000 guests, and which marked the end of the coronation social season.

Solons May Get Farm Benefits

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The house agriculture committee has approved legislation that would permit members of congress to participate in federal agricultural programs and receive benefit payments.

Representative Kieberg (D-Tex) author of the bill, said an old statute denied the approximately 50 "dirt farmer" congressmen benefits of the soil conservation act under which farmers are paid cash benefits.

The Texan said he would not be affected by the bill, because the King ranch in Texas, which employs him, is a corporation and he was paid a salary as an officer.

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

MANY MEETINGS SCHEDULED

Again the writer calls attention of the Townsends to Santa Ana club No. 7's meeting being held at 7:30 tonight in the Orange Avenue Christian church, McFadden and Orange streets. Townsend speaker A. C. Hansen of Riverside, who is a whirlwind of Townsend enthusiasm, is the speaker.

And the writer again urges the Townsends to hear Rev. J. H. Bradley of Riverside, who is the speaker at the Townsend mass meeting being staged in the Unitarian church at Eighth and Bush streets at 7:30 tonight, under the sponsorship of Santa Ana club No. 10. This club needs the support of all loyal Townsends. You are cordially invited to attend this meeting, says R. E. Marks, president.

A new "100 per cent Townsend club" was organized Monday evening in San Bernardino. The officers elected were H. Y. Basham, president; Mrs. Lila Walker, vice president; Mrs. L. Grace Heath, secretary and Mrs. Hester Hearst, treasurer. Former district board member W. R. Cogswell, was selected to head the club's advisory board. Cogswell is advertising manager of the San Bernardino Sun, and a live wire Townsend speaker. He has appeared in Orange county a number of times and arrangements are under way to have him here again shortly.

The Yorba Linda club remains loyal to Dr. Francis E. Townsend. The following have been selected to lead the club in its activities for the balance of 1937: M. E. Martin, re-elected president; N. W. Reneker, vice president; Mrs. William Lytle, secretary and Cyrus Shannon, treasurer.

Now that the Townsend movement has launched an effort to add an amendment to the constitution through the various states instead of waiting for congress to become sympathetic, we may get somewhere rapidly. This plan will have two advantages in particular: it will offer Townsends of each state the opportunity of organizing in a more powerful way to select such members of the assembly and of the state senate as will positively be committed to initiating the amendment and at the same time keep partisan politics at the minimum in the Townsend movement.

By the concentration of Townsend vote influence in favor of such candidates who pledge themselves to support the initiating of the proposed amendment without regard to their political affiliations, it should put the Townsend group in the limelight as a political force to be reckoned with and given consideration. In California and many other Western states the 1938 elections now promise to take on a new significance and interest to both the Townsends and others as a result of this adventure of the Townsend movement.

Perhaps one of these days the general public which in large numbers have never yet studied the Townsend plan, will realize that the Townsends mean it when at each of their club meetings they take the pledge to make "Townsend plan succeed." The Townsends are crusaders for an economic justice and have been so now for more than three and one-half years. They never say quits and with every re-buff received rise up to continue forward to the social betterment visioned as their goal.

The writer now issues a last call for all Townsends to remember the basket dinner tomorrow evening in Fisher park on North Flower street, just north of the Santiago Creek bridge in Santa Ana. The dinner hour is 5 o'clock. Everyone is to bring their own basket of food and table service. Club No. 6 will furnish free coffee, cream and sugar. Senator Harry C. Westover and the writer are to address the crowd after the dinner. Also other entertainment and fun.

A. M. Mapes and his club promises a great time for everybody and Mapes always makes good. He says the NYA band will furnish music and asks all to bring Townsend song books with them.

Wife Hides in Divorce Court

LONDON. (American Wire)—Something new in divorce court procedure occurred here when a wife was hidden behind a screen while her husband, seeking divorce, was in the witness box, ignorant of her presence. The step was taken on advice of physicians that it was undesirable for them to meet in court.

Astrologer Plans To 'Snap' Heavens

PHILADELPHIA. (American Wire)—Dr. Gustavus Cook, noted amateur astrologer, plans to photograph the heavens and compile the pictures in book form as an astronomical atlas. He will use a cluster of cameras weighing two and one-half tons and mounted on an 18-ton base. The biggest camera uses a plate 20 by 24 inches.

CONSOLIDATE WPA OFFICES IN STATE

San Francisco Named General Headquarters

SACRAMENTO. (P)—William R. Lawson, state administrator of works project administration, has ordered consolidation of district WPA offices in eight California cities into one general office in San Francisco for the conducting of certain functions.

Lawson said the present district offices, located at Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno, Santa Rosa, San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose and Santa Barbara would remain, though with reduced administrative staffs.

Mexico Land Action Opposed

MEXICO CITY. (P)—Mexico's power to expropriate private property "for the equitable distribution of wealth" and other social purposes headed today toward a constitutional test.

The issue arose from President Lazaro Cardenas' application of the law to urban property for the first time. It was enacted last November.

The Los Alamos Land company, which has developed a residential section in Mexico City, announced it would appeal a presidential decree expropriating almost two acres of its holdings for a school site.

Deaf Mute Police Prove Success

BUCHAREST. (American Wire)—Deaf mute constables are proving a great success here. They were employed to put an end to the long and heated debates between police and motorists. Members of the royal family were often held up by jams occasioned by the arguments.

Police 'Dan Cupid' Seeks To Untangle Love Quarrel

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (P)—Police Chief Pat O'Grady patiently hunted for a house with a "crack" in it today—all for the sake of love.

The chief was backstopping Dan Cupid in an effort to reunite a Vinita, Okla., man—who signed himself Arley Johnson—and a will-o-the-wisp girl friend named "Betty" who vanished without leaving a forwarding address.

The house with the "crack" in it was Johnson's principal clue to the identity of the girl's whereabouts, and he offered to post $5 reward to anyone finding the house—presumably hoping the missing young woman would be in it. A post office box number, also listed by Johnson, showed the box was no longer in use.

"I love her so much. I don't want to give her up," wrote Johnson in his second letter to O'Grady. In his first, he threatened to sue her.

GIRL SPURNS $500,000 GIFT

CHICAGO. (P)—Elaine Harnett, 9, spurned a home of wealth and a possible $500,000 inheritance for a life with her mother, her brother and a promised puppy dog.

She went today to live with her mother, Mrs. Veronica Harnett, 30, estranged from her husband, Earl. Mrs. Harnett said she could support her daughter.

Elaine lived for eight years with her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mae Kirkpatrick, who sought her legal custody in circuit court.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick's brother-in-law, William Gaertner, manufacturer of scientific instruments, told the court he was "worth about a half million dollars" and intended to "leave it all to Elaine" unless she was permitted to live with her mother.

Taxation Passes Food Payments

NEW YORK. (American Wire)—Americans pay more for taxes each year than for food, according to the Twentieth Century Fund's latest report. The fund reached its conclusion after a two-year study of the tax situation. The American people's annual tax bill is 12½ billion, largest in history, while 11½ billion go for food.

COUNTY VALUES FACE RAISE

SACRAMENTO. (P)—The state board of equalization today voted a 10 per cent increase in the assessment rolls of Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.

The increase was voted, Richard Collins, chairman of the board, said so as to make the tax ratio of the two counties equal to others in the state.

Charles L. Tomlinson, assessor of Santa Barbara county, argued against the board increasing the assessment of $91,576,909, which he said was fair to all taxpayers. Reports to the board showed the Ventura county assessment totaled $80,419,715.

Build 23 Dams For Westerners

WASHINGTON. (P)—Secretary Ickes reported today the biggest reclamation program "in the history of the federal government" is under way in the West.

"Reclamation," he said, "has and is justifying itself to the country as a whole."

Ickes reported the reclamation bureau now has 23 dams under construction in the West. He said 70 construction contracts are now in operation on 24 projects, and that they involve a total expenditure of $86,768,603.

Mechanical Brain Directs Loading

LOS ANGELES (American Wire)—Loading big transport planes would be simplified if the invention of Lewis W. Imm, department of commerce engineer, were put into use. Imm recently demonstrated a five-pound mechanical brain which calculates in two minutes how an airplane should be loaded, where the cargo should be stowed and the passengers seated to avoid "nose heaviness" or tail drag.

Racketeer's Extradition Set

NEW YORK. (P)—The office of Special Rackets Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey said it has received word from Mexico City that Alexander Pompey, indicted here in connection with an alleged $100,000,000 "policy" racket, has been ordered extradited.

Dewey's office described Pompey, under indictment for conspiracy and contriving a lottery, as one of the leaders of the far-flung "numbers" racket.

GERRARD IS HOST TO STAFF OF ALPHA BETA

Tells of Employee Ownership Plan

Employees of the Alpha Beta stores were entertained last night at the home of A. W. "Will" Gerrard, 2422 Heliotrope.

Mich Kaskill, in charge of the meat department at store No. 2, was master of ceremonies and called upon different members of the organization or impromptu speeches.

High light of the evening was "Uncle Will" Gerrard's talk on "To Much Sawdust" in which he told of the chiseling of an owner of a flock of chickens. This particular owner tried mixing a little sawdust with their food and it went over allright. Then he decided to mix in a larger proportion until finally he was feeding them nothing but sawdust, the result of which was not wooden eggs but dead hens. He pointed out that low priced hamburger would have to be sold on the same basis as the chicken feed, and that's why he never permitted low-priced hamburger in an Alpha Beta market.

Another interesting feature of his talk was a plan whereby Alpha Beta employees may now share in the ownership of the organization, their stock interests being financed by the company.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Weighing herself on a penny scales cost Mrs. Ethel Stoddy exactly $462.01.

It was gone when she stepped off. In it were jewelry worth $455 and $7 in cash.

PATTERN 5754

Don't envy your "best friend" her knitted spread! Make one for yourself! It's a grand pastime besides, for what could be more fascinating than watching these 6 1/2-inch knitted strips growing inch by inch until you've enough strips of given length to join and make this spread. When you view your spread as a whole, you'll note the interesting "plaid" effect created by the open-work stitches in cross-bar design. In pattern 5754 you will find complete instructions for making the strips shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements; a photograph of a section of the strip. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

July AUTHORS

Edited by John Selby

LUDWIG BEMELMANS—This jolly eccentric (now in Ecuador for no reason at all) has written and illustrated a smart commentary on the experiences of a German-born chap in the World war. He calls it "My War With the United States."

VAUGHAN WILKINS—What promises to be the month's big novel is his "And So—Victoria," which deals colorfully with the two decades preceding Victoria's ascension to the British throne.

E. M. DELAFIELD—Her "Nothing Is Safe" recounts the effect of a divorce on the children involved. It should be one of the coming favorites.

Here's One Floridan Who Likes California

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Found: A Floridan who admits he likes California.

Former Governor David Sholtz identified himself today as that man.

Arriving here for a brief vacation Sholtz said: "I am a Floridan all right but I like California too. This is my fifth visit to Los Angeles in 18 months."

Boy, 7, Ordained As Minister

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—The Rev. Charles Jaynes, Jr., 7 years old—was an ordained minister today, described by the Rev. G. B. Drake as the "youngest in the world."

Some 1500 persons attended the service last night in which Drake ordained the child, and then heard the young minister preach on "Hell, or God's Penitentiary."

Louie Bearbower, filling station attendant at Platt's, served as a race-horse jockey for 12 years. . . . Most of his riding was done at Nebraska's famous Ak-sar-ben track in Omaha, although Louie rode a few at California's Santa Maria. . . . Asked why he gave it up (jockeys earn good money), Bearbower replied, "I had trouble keeping my riding weight at 110 to 112 pounds. . . . Louie scales around 130 now."

Pat Collins, Santa Ana telephone girl who plays a mean game at second base for the Orange Lancers, returned to the lineup this week after nursing an injured finger.

Planning a fall vacation up north? Why not schedule it between Sept. 25 and Oct. 9 and take in one of the Pacific Coast conference football games? There will be some attractive ones.

Santa Clara plays Stanford at Palo Alto on the same afternoon. Bill Cook's Santa Ana Dons battle the Stanford Fresh. Sept. 25. . . . St. Mary's plays California on the Berkeley sod the same afternoon. . . . On Oct. 2 Oregon State will be at Berkeley to face the Golden Bears. . . . The next week-end, Oct. 9, will find U. C. L. A.'s Bruins up north for the Stanford game at Palo Alto, and Washington State will play California at Berkeley the same day.

If you want to know when some of the other teams play, give the sports desk a ring.

Art Cohn, one-time Long Beach scribe who now edits the bright and shiny sports pages of the Oakland Tribune, calls the Oaks of the Pacific Coast league the "J-Oaks."

Joe Kogler, the Saints' head basketball and baseball coach, will leave Monday on a three weeks' vacation to the old home state, Washington. . . . The Cougar will return in time to assist Bill Foote in rounding up the Saints for football drill. . . . Kogler is Foote's new line coach.

There will be much music on S. A. H. S.'s eleven this fall—Bill Musick, 198, and Robbie Musick, 165, will be seeking backfield boys. . . . They are brothers of Jarring Jim Musick of U. S. C. and Boston pro full-back fame. . . . Bill was no standout last fall, but Saint critics expect his senior year to be his finest. . . . He went well as a sophomore.

Fred Pinkston, one of the Dons' most ardent boosters, who has been in and out of Santa Ana Jail since '31, does not plan to enter college in September. . . . Fred says he is staying out a year before transferring—probably to San Diego State.

Bert Heiser, Chaffey J. C.'s elephantine football coach, is taking a course in aesthetic dancing at U. S. C.'s summer session.

SCARLET MR. X TO CHALLENGE STEINKE, GINO

Issuing a challenge and announcing that he stands ready to post a $500 appearance forfeit which could go as a side-bet, the mysterious Mr. Scarlet, known to mat followers of this section as Scarlet Mr. X, today put in his bid to meet the winner of Monday night's feature wrestling bout at the Orange County Athletic club between Hans Steinke and Gino Garibaldi.

The huge German grappler and the Italian champion battle it out in the three-fall main event, while the undefeated Scarlet Mr. X tangles with Indian Jules Strongbow in the 45-minute secondary feature.

The Garibaldi-Steinke bout is looked upon as a natural and in keeping with the high class caliber of main events offered at the Highway 101 arena the past few months.

Two topnotch supporting bouts show Ignacio Martinez vs. Baron Ginsberg and Al Baffert vs. Count Von Busing.

ORANGE HOST TO ANAHEIM

Stars' Nine Is Idle Until Tomorrow, But H. B. Vs. Westminster

Ranks of the Santa Ana Stars will be divided tonight, some of Manager "Doc" Smith's charges motoring to Orange to see the Cubs battle Anaheim, and others traveling to Westminster to see the Aviators against Huntington Beach.

The Stars will be idle in the National Nightball league until tomorrow night, when they go up the Santa Ana canyon for a "crucial" with San Bernardino's fancy-prancing Ponies at Perris Hill park. The game was shifted from Thursday to Saturday night at the request of Santa Ana.

Left Fielder Bob Schwarm, City league graduate, has hit at the remarkable clip of .579 since joining Santa Ana six games ago, and today is setting a blistering pace in league hitting, 138 points ahead of his nearest rival, Catcher Joe Wallin of Westminster, with .441.

Santa Ana has retained second place in team hitting behind Huntington Beach, and six of the Stars are batting above .300. League players hitting .240 or better follow:

JOE GONZALES, EX-TROJAN STAR, BEATEN WITH PADRES, 3-2

Oakland's bolstered baseball team faced a real test today against the Pacific Coast league's leading San Diego Padres in the first of a four-game series.

In other games in the circuit's first split series of the current season, Portland opposed Los Angeles, Seattle played the San Francisco Missions, and San Francisco's Seals went to Sacramento.

The Oaks won their ninth straight game last night from the lowly Missions, 6 to 5, when Bobby Gibson, new Oakland first sacker, clouted a homer with the bags loaded and the Missions leading 2 to 0. The Missions regained the lead with a three-run spurt in the eighth inning, but a triple to right centerfield by Walter Jundich which scored Earl Bolyard in the ninth gave the Oaks the deciding run.

Seattle checked a ninth-inning San Diego rally to win, 3 to 2. With a revamped batting order, the Tribe defeated Joe Gonzales, former University of Southern California star pitcher, in his first start in a Padre uniform. Herman Michael of the Indians tripled and scored on Freddie Steele in the first half of the ninth with the winning run.

In a game marked by 28 base hits, including three homers, the second place Sacramento Solons stopped the Portland Beavers' winning streak with a 12 to 6 shellacking. Homers by Nick Culup and Johnny Verez featured the Solons' attack.

Frank Lamanske, southpaw who came to the San Francisco Seals from the Missions recently, went into the game in the third inning with none out to stop a Los Angeles rally dead and give the Seals a 4 to 1 victory. Ted Norbert hit a homer for the Seals in the first inning with one on the bags.

Ted Jennings, Seals infielder, who injured a leg in the Portland series last week, may have to stay in the hospital for 10 days more doctors said, leaving the battered

OLDTIMERS AND STARS CLASH

Ex-Santa Anans Play Novel Game July 28

Sixty-foot baselines, 40-foot pitching distance and the 12-inch ball will go into effect for one game—at the Municipal bowl next Wednesday night when Kenneth Miller's "Oldtimers" battle Santa Ana's Stars in a special experiment.

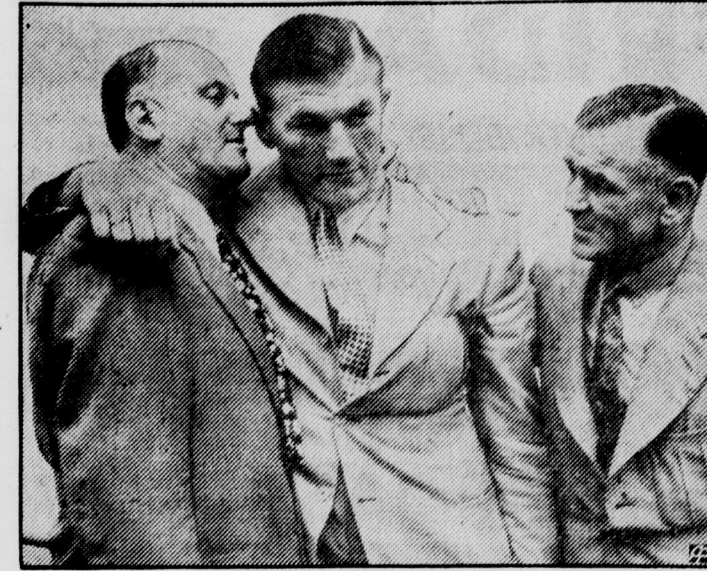

Players who made softball history with the Stars since 1926 will be assembled for the exhibition, which will be extremely different because present regulations call for 50-foot baselines, 35-foot pitching distance and the 13-inch ball.

Miller, Elks' athletic department committeeman, has rounded up a formidable lineup, including Joe Cornelius and Gene Hitt, pitchers; "Benny" Wilcox, catcher; Ralph (Bill) Cole and John Lutz, first base; George Preble, Horace Snow and Bill Foote, second base; Liston (Memphry) Hill, shortstop; Darwin (Pee Wee) Scott, third base; Orville Schuchardt and Randolph Bell, left field; Leavitt Daley and Don Jerome, centerfield; and Wayne Nelson and Rosy Merrill, rightfield.

There will be a 25-cent admission charge, all proceeds going into the Elks' charity fund, Miller said.

Fights Last Night

NEW YORK.—Cefirino Garcia, 164½, Los Angeles, knocked out Bobby Pachio, 147, Phoenix, Ariz. (9).

Raoul Solis Whips Fields Mexican to Turn Pro; Paperweights Please

By PAUL WRIGHT

What the Orange County Athletic club needs is a few more fistcuffers like the Mauling Mexican of Santa Ana, Raoul Solis.

Matchmaker George L. Stewart would like to find a few more lads who waste in with both hands and box as cleverly as Solis, but that's a difficult search and he even is faced with the unpleasant prospect of losing Solis.

Solis, seconded by Frankie Lockhart of Walker's gymnasium, Santa Ana, will invade the professional ranks soon, today as the Ex-Golden Gloves champion defeated Willie Fields, Los Angeles' game negro, in the main event of an attractive eight-bout card at the Highway hall of horrors last night.

Fields is a better-than-fair fighter himself, and managed to ward off much of the two-fisted punishment unleashed by the shifty Solis. It was a fast bout and a popular decision.

Two knockouts—one a technical—graced Stewart's program. The first was a genuine crowd-pleaser, with 112-pound Art Blue of Los Angeles peppering Anaheim's Ray Pimental with so many lefts that the Orange county boy's manager tossed in the towel in the second. The little fellows put on a real show the short time it lasted, and will be welcomed on a near-future card.

Rudy Roma, Central avenue Mexican, scored a clean kayo over James Molter, Los Angeles negro, in the first round. They fought at 126 pounds, Roma getting the jump on the colored lad and flooring him on an 8-count early in the going.

Diminutive Paddy Quillen of Anaheim, faster than ever, took the first two rounds and a third-round draw to decision bushy-haired Mal Walker of Los Angeles in a fast bout that pleased the fans. Frank Castillo, 138, Los Angeles, defeated Eddie Mossette, Los Angeles negro, in the duldest bout of the evening.

Only questionable decision was Babe Rosales' victory over Pete Mitchell of Los Angeles. The customers thought Mitchell, who rocked Rosales with a stunning right in the fourth, and more than held his own in the third, should have had a draw. Rosales, however, deserved no less than a draw himself.

Bob Holzhauser of Long Beach, blond brother of Bud Holzhauser of pro ranks, was a mild disappointment, failing to mix it like Solis and some of the preliminary boys. He landed a few good punches, however, in a slow fight, and managed to eke out a decision over the good-looking Clarence Montgomery, Los Angeles negro, in the program's nightcap.

Lightweight, Henry Armstrong of Los Angeles.

Rankings in the bantamweight class: Champion Sixto Escobar of Puerto Rico, Harry Jeffra of Baltimore, Johnny K. O. Morgan of Detroit, Lou Salica of New York, Frankie Martin of Canada.

Rankings in the flyweight class: Champion Benny Lynch of Scotland, Thuy Bostock of Ireland, Peter Kane of England, Small Montana of Philippines, Jim Warrick of England, Pat Palmer of England, Tut Whalley of Los Angeles.

Light heavyweight, Tiger Jack Fox of Spokane, Gus Lesnevich of Los Angeles, Jock McAvoy of England, Leo Kell of Chicago.

Middleweight, Teddy Yarosz of Pittsburgh, Fred Apotoli of San Francisco, Ken Overlin of Richmond, Va., Al Hoslak of Seattle.

Welterweight, Cefirino Garcia of the Philippine islands.

The event, richest medal play tourney of the 1937 American season, drew 204 amateurs, the largest group of simon-pures ever entered in an open tournament.

Seals without a reserve infielder. Branch Rickey, boss of the St. Louis Cardinal chain, was expected in Sacramento today to look over the situation and the needs of the Solons as they moved into the home stretch.

What the Orange County Athletic club needs is a few more fistcuffers like the Mauling Mexican of Santa Ana, Raoul Solis.

Matchmaker George L. Stewart would like to find a few more lads who waste in with both hands and box as cleverly as Solis, but that's a difficult search and he even is faced with the unpleasant prospect of losing Solis.

Solis, seconded by Frankie Lockhart of Walker's gymnasium, Santa Ana, will invade the professional ranks soon, today as the Ex-Golden Gloves champion defeated Willie Fields, Los Angeles' game negro, in the main event of an attractive eight-bout card at the Highway hall of horrors last night.

Fields is a better-than-fair fighter himself, and managed to ward off much of the two-fisted punishment unleashed by the shifty Solis. It was a fast bout and a popular decision.

Two knockouts—one a technical—graced Stewart's program. The first was a genuine crowd-pleaser, with 112-pound Art Blue of Los Angeles peppering Anaheim's Ray Pimental with so many lefts that the Orange county boy's manager tossed in the towel in the second. The little fellows put on a real show the short time it lasted, and will be welcomed on a near-future card.

Rudy Roma, Central avenue Mexican, scored a clean kayo over James Molter, Los Angeles negro, in the first round. They fought at 126 pounds, Roma getting the jump on the colored lad and flooring him on an 8-count early in the going.

Diminutive Paddy Quillen of Anaheim, faster than ever, took the first two rounds and a third-round draw to decision bushy-haired Mal Walker of Los Angeles in a fast bout that pleased the fans. Frank Castillo, 138, Los Angeles, defeated Eddie Mossette, Los Angeles negro, in the duldest bout of the evening.

Only questionable decision was Babe Rosales' victory over Pete Mitchell of Los Angeles. The customers thought Mitchell, who rocked Rosales with a stunning right in the fourth, and more than held his own in the third, should have had a draw. Rosales, however, deserved no less than a draw himself.

Bob Holzhauser of Long Beach, blond brother of Bud Holzhauser of pro ranks, was a mild disappointment, failing to mix it like Solis and some of the preliminary boys. He landed a few good punches, however, in a slow fight, and managed to eke out a decision over the good-looking Clarence Montgomery, Los Angeles negro, in the program's nightcap.

Lightweight, Henry Armstrong of Los Angeles.

Rankings in the bantamweight class: Champion Sixto Escobar of Puerto Rico, Harry Jeffra of Baltimore, Johnny K. O. Morgan of Detroit, Lou Salica of New York, Frankie Martin of Canada.

Middleweight, Teddy Yarosz of Pittsburgh, Fred Apotoli of San Francisco, Ken Overlin of Richmond, Va., Al Hoslak of Seattle.

The event, richest medal play tourney of the 1937 American season, drew 204 amateurs, the largest group of simon-pures ever entered in an open tournament.

BRUBAKER TO BOX SIMMS

Legion Ten-Rounder Scheduled Tonight

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Phil Brubaker of Dinuba, Calif., tries to pick up broken strands of a once-promising boxing career tonight in a 10-round bout with hard-punching Eddie Simms of Cleveland at the Legion stadium.

It will be the Dinuba Bible student's first bout since Andre Lenglet, French heavyweight, posted two knockouts against his record.

Brubaker was originally slated to meet Jack Roper, who bowed out when he hurt a hand in a movie scene. Tom Beaupre of Dallas was next signed, but failed to reach here in time to properly train. Simms, soundly beaten two weeks ago here by Alberto Love of Argentina, was then signed for the bout.

There will be war—softball war—in the Municipal bowl tonight, with two of the Santa Ana City league's finest clubs, Commercial National Bank and Montgomery Ward's, hooking up in an inviting 8:30 nightcap.

The Ward Jordan-Gene Hitt department store lads will gain a first-place deadlock provided they dispose of Harold Youle's unbeaten money-lenders.

Another attractive pairing sends Kenneth Miller's Elks against Larry Owen's Grand Central Market nine at 7:30. Regular Monday and Thursday play will be resumed next week. Games were called for Monday, Wednesday and Friday this week.

CUBS, GIANTS CRUCIAL NEW YORK SERIES

SPORTS Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK (AP)—Along with Rogers Hornsby, the Browns fired Coach Charlie O'Leary and the clubhouse boy. . . Why the clubhouse boy? . . . Broadway was wondering today if the horses have caught up with the Yankees again. . . Anyway, his passing leaves more than one big league manager swimming in the anxious bench. . . You can write your own ticket, but of the five guys we have in mind, two are in the American league and three in the National. . . Remember that when you make your winter baseball book.

This corner's nomination for the champion long distance golfer goes to Ralph Anderson Kennedy of New York. . . In 27 years of golfing, he has played 1615 courses all over the world. . . The guy has been in the rough in 41 American states, in eight provinces of Canada and in seven other countries. . . He's still going strong and hopes to hit every country in the world before he's through. . . He looks forward to dropping dead on a golf course. . . His only tip to golfers is "don't play golf with your wife".

Chicago Daily News prints a picture of Joe Cronin in a huddle with a bevy of his stars and captions it "Cronin Is Mourning We Gotta Get Going". . . Who was it Manager Steve O'Neill wanted to beat up when he stalked into the Washington dressing room after a recent game in Cleveland? . . . For 11 straight years, starting in 1900, the team that was leading on July 4, won the National league pennant. . . But it's happened only twice in the last eight years—the Cardinals in 1931 and the Giants in 1933. . . The middle name of Jimmy Bucher, of the Dodgers is "Quinter". . . In Latin that means "five times". . . Just to prove it, Jimmy won his chance in the National league by copping five batting prizes in the Piedmont. . . his 360 led the loop and he was first in the number of base hits, two baggers, homers and total bases.

Minor league ball players no longer live like normal humans. . . night baseball has 'em getting up at noon, breakfasting at 4 o'clock, eating a light snack at 6, dinner at midnight and to bed at 3 or 4 in the morning. . . All a lot of major league stars like about the night game is the hours. . . So far nothing has occurred to make us change our opinion that the Hambletonian will be a two-hoss race between Twilight Song and Schnapps.

Yorba Linda was held hitless for nine innings by Ira DeBusk, but Irvine's league-leader Beane-Buckers lost a 1-0 thriller in 10 innings to Roy Pritchard's Yorba Lindans at Irvine last night.

Equally tough was the 2-1 win which the Holly Sugar outfit eked out over San Juan Capistrano in the Shaughnessy playoff only two weeks away, Aug. 5.

Continuing the batting rampage after they shifted their batting order, Brea's Lions swamped Tustin, 17-5.

Al Martin, batting cleanup for Yorba Linda, hit DeBusk for the payoff single opening the last half of the 10th. Dyckman advanced him to second on a sacrifice bunt, and Clout's infield out set him to third. A Texas leaguer turned by French sewed up the game for the club which has won exactly three contests to date, two over the defunct Olive club.

Ernie Lagier's nine belted four bingles, but the veteran Al Bushman kept them well scattered. Both pitchers struck out 14 players, although DeBusk allowed three walks.

With the score tied 1-1 in the eighth, Holly Sugar started to work for its winning run. Three singles by Henry Martinez, Larri-man and Tom Lacy produced the winning run. In the second Smith doubled and scored on Kinney's double. In both instances two were away.

Forster tallied on "Swede" Whistler's double for the lone beach run. Nieblas struck out seven while Henry Martinez sent down 11 swinging.

Two home runs blew Tustin's hopes. Ray Hodgson homed in the first with two outs, and then Snell turned the trick in the fourth. Nineteen hits helped out the cause. Against Yorba Linda last week, Brea chalked up 20 bingles to break up a three-game losing streak.

talk of another "subway series" between the Yankees and the Giants. . . The Yankees will win the American league flag, of course. . . But it appears now as if the Cubs will steal the thunder of the Giants and turn it into a New York-Chicago feud. . . We wonder if the Yankees would make the same run-away race in the National as they are doing in the American?

Francis Penhall, genial manager of Westminster's Aviators, wants it understood that his club had nothing to do with the outbreak of the vice-president. . . Gelker, in openly hinting that Huntington Beach "throw" a recent nightball game to Santa Ana.

It was Gelker's personal opinion, and should not reflect on the Westminster club, Penhall indicated. . . Joe Rodgers of the Oilers laughed off Gelker's "charges" as being ridiculous, and stated that it is high time Gelker pulled away from the National league unless he can work in hard-nosed playoffs without help, let the Stars stay out. I want to see one of the smaller clubs—Westminster and Orange—have the same chance as Santa Ana. . . Everyone who knows Joe believes that.

Ex-Heavyweight Idol Referees Fight at Gilmore Emporium

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jack Dempsey, boxing's "good will ambassador," was due in here today to look after several matters, chief of which was to help the bally-hoo along on a triple all-star fight card at Gilmore stadium next Monday night.

The ex-heavyweight champion is slated to referee one of the bouts, a 10-rounder between the Puerto Rican flash, Pedro Montañez, and Wesley Ramey, Grand Rapids, Mich., lightweight.

As a spectator-manager Dempsey has added interest in the appearance of his heavyweight sore-top, Red Burman of Baltimore, who fights Alberto Lovell of Argentina in another 10.

The third match brings Jackie Wilson, slim little Pittsburgh negro, against Ritchie Fontaine, Montana featherweight.

With Gilmore stadium rigged up to seat 44,000, Promoter Joe Levy declared advance ticket sales were satisfactory.

Three years ago—Dizzy Dean beat the Giants for his tenth consecutive victory and his eighteenth win of the season.

Yankees and White Sox Launch Feud in Chicago

By the Associated Press

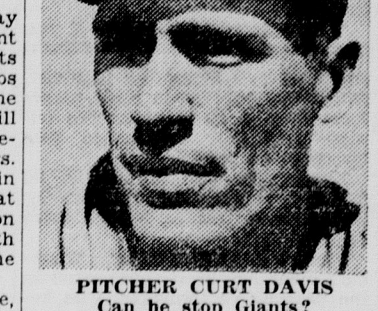

The Cubs and the Giants open a three-game party at the Polo Grounds, from which the National league pennant winner is likely to stagger if other teams continue at their current rate.

The Yankees and White Sox, running one-two in the American league, start a four-game fust at Chicago that will decide whether the Phils, all of which left Bill Terry's Terrors only a game behind their sparring partners, Wally Berger came through again with a ninth inning homer to beat the Reds, and the Phils put on a seven-run spurge in the eighth to take a sure thing from the Cubs.

While the White Sox were idle, the Yankees bowed to the Browns, 13-4, ending their six game winning streak, snapping Joe DiMaggio's 22-game consecutive hitting run and placing the world champions a mere seven games ahead of the American league pack.

More interest attaches to the Cubs-Giants war on today's front. The New Yorkers will throw

PITCHER CURT DAVIS

Can he stop Giants?

MIDGET RECORD SHATTERED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sam Hanks turned on his speedway magic last night and produced a new world record for a quarter-mile track.

With Bob Swanson at his heels, Hanks toured 50 laps at Gilmore stadium in his midget auto in 13 minutes 29.18 seconds, bettering the old mark by 7.77 seconds.

"King" Carl Hubbell against Curt Davis, who in past years has been a particular Giant killer. The Giants, with a crippled infield, can't hope for much in the series after Hubbell gets through, however—depending of course, on whether even he is successful against the Davis only recently returned from the hospital list.

Those two outfits now appear the only clubs in the race. The Cardinals, who seem to be out on their feet, are trying desperately to stay in the first division, and the Pirates are not enjoying any great success. The Giants found Boston's pitching too much yesterday for the fourth straight game and dropped a 2-0 decision to Danny MacFadden. The Pirates, headed by Red Lucas' four-hit flinging, had little difficulty walloping the Dodgers 10-1.

Detroit's Tigers battered the Boston Red Sox 17-4, featuring four homers in their attack. Hal Trosky clouted two homers as the Indians whipped the Athletics 5-1. The Senators were idle.

Referee McDonald Suspended on Mat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Referee Don McDonald, who objected to being tossed over the shoulders by Gino Garibaldi during a wrestling match, was under indefinite suspension by the state athletic commission today because he disqualified Garibaldi.

Vincent Lopez, who was awarded the match by the angered referee, was ordered to meet Garibaldi in a one-fall rematch next Wednesday night.

QUAKES FAIL TO PERTURB ALASKANS

$5000 Damage in Nine-Hour Shakeup

FAIRBANKS, Alaska. (AP)—Alaskans displayed a jaunty indifference today to the greatest earthquake disturbance ever recorded within the territory.

For nine hours yesterday many shocks, four of them severe, occurred over the interior from Fairbanks 300 miles south to Anchorage.

During the disturbance utility companies, banks and business houses carried on business as usual. Only the liquor store failed to operate. The earth shocks toppled bottles off shelves and broke them.

Telephone lines broken during the first shocks were hastily repaired and service restored.

Total damage was estimated at a maximum of $5000, mostly to the liquor store stock.

An unconfirmed report said several houses were demolished and one person injured when a giant earth slide swept across 2000 feet of the Richardson highway.

After citizens rushed out of their homes by an early morning earthquake that swayed several buildings, they paid little heed to the recurring shocks.

The U. S. weather bureau said the earth shocks were very severe

Barbara Stanwyck Weeps On Curb as Cop Gets Tough

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Barbara Stanwyck, mistaken for an autograph hunter, got "the works" from a policeman—and was rescued by Robert Taylor—at the preview last night of her newest film.

An old hat pulled down on her head and her coat collar flipped up, the actress was not recognized by the officer when he shoved back autograph hunters who swarmed around Taylor, her escort.

Miss Stanwyck attempted to follow the actor through the crowd. "No, you don't," commanded the officer, forcibly putting her into reverse.

Once safely through the mobbing fans, Taylor found that it was a strange young woman who had hold of his coat tail as he entered the foyer. He rushed out again.

Miss Stanwyck sat weeping on the curb, rigorously guarded by the law.

"I'm going to sock you, if you

south of here along the highway, which was cracked in some places from four to 12 inches. The bureau said the disturbance was "greatest on record."

Earthshakes cut off about 20 families vacationing at Harding Lake, nearby resort, but all were believed safe.

Cops Swoop as Boys Whoop; Jail Saloon Man

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—A bunch of the boys were whooping it up at a drinking spot here when three men walked in. They drank quietly, not participating in the revelry. Fifteen minutes after the legal closing hour, the trio asked for another round of drinks.

Then they identified themselves as investigators for the board of equalization, arresting Eddie Tierney, 40, whom they identified as the proprietor; David Dagmar and Jack Ford, bartenders.

Back Slapping Leaders Rapped

ATLANTIC CITY. (AP)—Women's clubs were warned today against choosing leaders just because they know how to slap backs, mix well, and wear Parisian clothes.

"We should select the women who can best advance our interests," Miss Lena M. Phillips, lawyer and associate editor of the Pictorial Review, told the convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women.

"It is all right to choose a back-slapper and good mixer if she has other worthwhile qualities, but the fact she wears Parisian models does not necessarily make her a desirable leader."

Reverend Halts Night Marriages

FLORENCE, Ariz. (American Wire)—The Rev. Lambeth Hancock is not the place for young couples to go who want to be married at unconventional hours. Rev. Hancock declares he is through with early morning ceremonies after what happened this week. At 1 a. m., after he had been roused out of bed, he was performing the wedding ceremony.

"Do you take this man to be your lawfully wedded husband?" he asked.

"No," said the young woman suddenly. "I want to think it over."

Country Plagued In 1492, Claims

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Drought, fire and insects were plaguing parts of the west in the days of Christopher Columbus, F. P. Keen of the Bureau of Entomology said today.

His study of tree rings showed a long dry spell ended in 1492.

Generally the rings are wide in years of plentiful moisture, he found, thin in drought years. Keen said his record does not support the theory that short cycles occur regularly.

The cup was given the executive's child, born in March, by the Houston family. The Alfred baby was born in the Sam Houston four-poster bed in the governor's mansion.

TRAFFIC DEATHS PASS HALF-HUNDRED MARK

51st VICTIM THIS YEAR SUCCUMBS

Soldier Dies After Skull Fractured

By JOHN McCLELLAND
Death's hand dropped with fatal sureness late yesterday to send Orange county's highway fatality toll rolling onward past the half hundred mark.
His life hanging precariously in the balance for nine days, George Rutter, youthful sergeant who was stationed at March Field, succumbed as a result of accident-inflicted skull fractures.
As a black hearse moved up to St. Joseph's hospital, where the death occurred, those who keep track of the grim price paid in human lives on the highway noted that 1937 was just seven counts ahead of 1936. At this time last year, 44 persons had been killed in automobile crashes. Rutter's death was number 51 for this year.

As the death list mounts over past figures, the Reaper seems bent on setting a new record on the county's crowded roads—bent on surpassing 1936's total of 79 slain as a result of human error behind the steering wheel.
Ironically, George Rutter was on his way to a coroner's inquest to identify the dead body of one of his fellow soldiers when he was injured in a crash in Santa Ana canyon. That companion whose death was being investigated was Roland H. Husted, killed on July 12 when a car struck the bicycle he was riding.
Coroner Earl Abbey said today that an inquest over Rutter's death is pending.

HIT BONDS ONCE, NOW HE IS FOR THEM

Metzgar Tells Change Toward Water Deal

J. C. Metzgar, executive secretary of the Home Owned Business association and bitter opponent of former flood control bond issues, today came out wholeheartedly in favor of the $2,500,000 water bond issue set for next Tuesday.
In his public statement, Metzgar outlined reasons for his opposition to the water programs offered voters in the past. But he also gave many sound reasons for urging all voters of Orange county to not only vote for but work hard to put over the program.

OPPOSED FORMER PLANS

"In several attempts to bond Orange county for various sums ranging from $16,500,000 in 1929 to something less than $7,000,000 quite recently for flood control and water conservation, I, with other like-minded citizens actively and aggressively opposed the plan for, to us, good and sufficient reasons.
"The outstanding objection to the program has been that Orange county taxpayers could not afford to carry on their already tax-bent shoulders those added millions of dollars plus interest and maintenance. It is quite certain that most of us still believe more than ever that we were fully justified in the fight we made."

A GREAT SAVINGS

"Now, however, since the first proposed issue of $16,500,000 in 1929 much water has gone 'under the dam,' or rather the proposed dams, and now apparently we have an unusual opportunity to construct the $16,500,000 flood control and water conservation program for a maximum of only (to Orange county) $2,500,000—a saving of $14,000,000 plus years of interest and maintenance to Orange county taxpayers. That, neighbors, is a lot of money saved in any man's language."

"In view of the fact that federal monies are offered for the much larger proportion of the costs, it is my sincere opinion that the opportunity should be taken advantage of, and the $2,500,000 bond issue voted. In case the bonds are defeated this federal money will be allocated elsewhere and the local taxpayers will have to pay their share of it anyway, so isn't it just good business judgment and common sense to take advantage of the opportunity offered?
"Let us vote 'yes' and, further, work for the bonds. Vote them in a big way so that Washington will be mindful of the fact that we mean it and like their program."

"You see," he explained as he recovered in a hospital here, "I was unconscious for three days after the crash. For three weeks more I didn't feel anything. The doctors said it was because of the brain concussion."

22 HURT IN BUS-TRUCK COLLISION

Flaming Gasoline Burns Score in N. Y. Wreck

NEW YORK. (AP)—Twenty-two persons were injured today when a big bus loaded with city-bound commuters collided at Rockaway Beach with a gasoline truck which exploded. The explosion sprayed the wrecked vehicles with flaming fuel.
One passenger, drenched with blazing gasoline, was thrown into 25 feet of water in nearby Jamaica bay by a fellow victim. He was pulled out of the bay badly burned.

Many of the victims were injured in a mad scramble to get out of doors and windows before the rapidly spreading flames destroyed the bus. Several were taken to a hospital.

Heights Home Setting of Parties

Mrs. Aubrey Glines Is Hostess in Pankey Home

Her own charm as a hostess and the gracious hospitality of the C. H. Pankey hillside home combined to make two luncheons given this week by Mrs. Aubrey Glines particularly outstanding on the social calendar. The Pankeys, her aunt and uncle, sailed last weekend for the Hawaiian Islands, leaving their beautiful Lemon Heights home at her disposal.

Mrs. Glines chose to serve her guests in the enclosed patio with its brilliant shrubs and lawn and tile flooring. Both on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons she used an attractive Mexican motif, with gay-hued little peasant tallies and assorted tones of pottery. Small tables were decorated with scarlet geraniums in white pottery holders, and garden flowers in white shades were placed at strategic points. Assisting in hostess duties were Mrs. Dora Pankey Glines and Mrs. Rule Loucks, while Mrs. Ferris Scott sent many lovely flowers.

Later the groups were invited into the spacious drawing-room for contract. Here mammoth zinnias, phlox, and great crinkled petunias in rich tropical hues added color to the afternoon. Smart pottery vases were awarded each day to high scorers, who included Mrs. William Croddy and Mrs. Ray Adkinson on Tuesday, and Mrs. Chad Harwood and Dr. Stella Davis yesterday.

Guests invited to the two lovely parties by Mrs. Glines included the Mesdames Ray Adkinson, Milan Miller, Sheldon Russell, Chester Horton, Lynn Crawford, J. H. Ebersole, W. W. Shoetley of Huntington Beach, Mervyn Bryte Thoburn White, Joseph Hershiser, Newell Moore, Edward Lee Russell.

The Mesdames John Lacy Taylor, Glenn Mathis, Don Park, James McCalla, James Workman, Milo Tedstrom, Clarence Holles, Cassius Paul, Ridley Smith, Roscoe Concklin, Carl Sanborn, Lyman Farwell, W. W. French of North Hollywood, James Whyte of Pomona (Eleanor Crookshank), George Peterson of Orange, Nelson Visel, Malcolm Macurda, Gary Bennett of Long Beach, Warren Fletcher, Thomas Rhone, Kenneth Ranney.

The Mesdames Earl Elson of Orange, Henry Williams, Frederick Elliott, Ferris Scott, Lyle Mitchell, Herman Ranney and Schuyler Bigelow of Laguna Beach, Ralph Durke and James J. Flanagan of Westwood, Harold Moomaw, R. Carson Smith, Chad Harwood, Anton Segerstrom, Harold Bracewell, W. Wollaston.

The Mesdames Robert Hockaday, Robert Wade, Kenneth Conner, E. F. Bruning, William Croddy, Ira Kroese, Basil Shiflett, and Rule Loucks of Orange; Dr. Stella Davis and Dr. Hester Olewiler; and the Mesdames Hazel Thrasher, Esther Rideout, Mabel Seeds Spizzy, Edith Cornell, Leona Calkins, Mildred Calkins, Ruth Fitz of Garden Grove, Pearl Nicholson, Eunice Adams, Nora Reid, and Amy Reid.

Away Goes Romance With Bad Manners

Be Sure About Yours!
You wouldn't want to star in this romance. In Scene 1, he met her; in Scene 2, he asked her to dine. But this, Scene 3, is the unhappy ending. Her table manners disillusioned him!

Her hoisting of saucer with cup was the finishing touch to a ghastly meal.

When she spread her napkin like a sheet instead of laying it in one or two folds across her lap. Then she tossed olive pits in the ash tray—and he began to feel she wasn't the charming girl he'd thought her.

When she chopped all her meat into bits before eating—instead of cutting it daintily, a piece at a time—glamour fled. At dessert, when she sucked her ice cream as if it were a lolly-pop he thought of her only as an endurance test.

Yet there's nothing hard about good table manners. Our 32-page booklet tells all anyone needs to know—about dining formally and informally.

The celebration, given in the home of Miss Bernadine Helberg, 519 East Fourth street, honored Miss Goode for her birthday tomorrow and Miss Dunlap for hers Wednesday.

The Helberg home was decorated with large baskets of pastel tulle, and for the dessert course guests were seated at one large table. An immense pink and white angel food cake, lettered "Betty and Ruth" was presented to the birthday honorees.

During the evening of games, Miss Jean Mulbar was awarded high prize and Miss Nellie Fickas won low.

Guests present were the Misses Frances Bassett, Helen Olson, Margery Button, Jean Mulbar, Mary Louise Dierker, Cecilia Plantamura, Edith Wilde, Jeanne House, Nellie Fickas, the two honor guests Betty Goode and Ruth Dunlap, and the hostess.

Mary Stoddard Woman Tells of Unhappy Life With Husband Who Nags Continually

There are two letters in the morning mail which are as remote as the poles. One is from a wife and mother. The other is from a man who condemns married women who complain about their husbands. I'm going to print the mother's letter first, and then the man's comment. After you have read both letters, do you not think it would be interesting to have the man answer the mother? If he were in her shoes what would he do?

Perhaps you will think there is no connection between the two letters. But do you suppose that this new woman who becomes a wife and demands, as described by the man, has become so because she is determined never to be placed in the helpless, hopeless human doormat class that her mother was before her?

Here is the mother's letter:
Dear Miss Stoddard: Is there any help for me?
Sometimes I think I actually hate my husband, and I live in actual hell because I cannot desert my children, who are all I have to live for.

My children are 14 and 15, so it won't be many years before they will be grown and perhaps have homes of their own.

My husband is, I think, the worst nagger I've ever known. We never know a minute's peace when he is home. He hardly ever has a kind word to say, and there isn't any use to try to reason with him, as he is so unreasonable he will curse and call us the worst names if we try to reason with him.

He almost never eats a meal without complaining about something, although I try to do the best I can with the little I have to get along with.

He only gives me just enough to buy groceries with, and I have to sell milk and butter and fruit off our farm to buy our clothes and keep the children in high school.

Besides getting three meals a day and keeping up the house and washing and ironing, I have to do lots of work on the farm, as I have no help except what the children can do after school.

Sometimes during canning time it is almost more than I can do, but if his shirts aren't ironed just to suit him, or his clothes mended in time, he will be so mean about it, call me names and tell me I'm lazy, when I'm really so tired I can hardly keep going.

It seems to me if I could just take my children and go somewhere by ourselves it would be heaven, and we surely deserve some happiness, but what can I do? I have no folks to help me, and I couldn't make a living for my children alone somewhere else, as we raise most of our living off our little place. Won't you or some of your readers who have had the same problems please help me?

CONFERS SPEND SUMMER AT CORONA DEL MAR

As a welcome change from the routine of city life, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Confer and children of 606 North Ross street, have been staying in the A. N. Zerman cottage at Corona del Mar for the past three weeks.

With the Confers at the beach have been Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hopkins and children Ruth and Harvey, also of Santa Ana. The Confers' children, Helen, Archalee, Raymond and Shirley, have enjoyed the beach for the entire period while their parents returned to the city to work.

Gratefully,
MARY ANN.

Following is the man's comment on demanding wives:
Dear Miss Stoddard: Married women often complain about their husbands' lack of love making and gallantry, claiming they're too deeply buried in business to make love to them, and yet, the majority of them demand expensive jewelry and furs, cars and so on, making it necessary for their husbands to put their noses to the business grindstone in order to furnish them with these costly luxuries!

If this isn't inconsistency, what is it? It's a safe bet that these same feminine complainers are more in love with vainglory than they are with their husbands!

Neither business nor luxuries are imbued with love, except love of necessity in the former and love of silliness in the latter.

Wake up, ye inconsistent ones, and come to your senses, and your mates will have time and energy left to devote to you.

If wives would take on a cargo of wisdom and common sense instead of loading themselves down with luxuries, trappings, love would in most cases have a chance to bud and flower throughout the matrimonial journey as a sweet-smelling incense, permeating a happy home life to the end.

When expensive luxuries come in the door, love flies out of the window. Remember that and change your life habits; then watch the pleasing results. The interest on folly will not buy peace and satisfaction. It's not recognized at the bank of finality when you wish to cash in on it.

DISILLUSIONED.

Hostess Trio Fetes Boyd Joplin

Miss Boyd Joplin, who plans to sail within the next few weeks for Alaska, where she will remain for the coming year, was inspiration yesterday for a delightful summer party, given by Mrs. Edmund West, Mrs. J. B. Stephenson, Jr., and Mrs. Bernard Parker in the pretty home of the latter on Heliotrope drive.

Five tables of contract were in play from two until half past four, when another little group of friends, among them Miss Rosa Boyd, aunt of the honor guest, and Mrs. F. C. Rowland, arrived for the tea hour. Lovely golden dahlias and zinnias, and bowls of waxen water-lilies decorated Mrs. Parker's pretty living room and the attractive ten-table over which Mrs. Terry Stephenson and Miss Boyd presided.

The hostesses made a pretty picture in their summery hostess gowns. Mrs. West in pale blue organza, Mrs. Stephenson in apricot plaid organza, and Mrs. Parker in delicate pink voile.

At the close of the afternoon they presented Miss Joplin with a beautiful camera as a going-away gift, and first, second and third high prizes, all in lovely white pottery, to Mrs. F. to whom a visiting card here from El Paso, Tex., Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Guild.

CHICAGO GUESTS RETURN HOME THIS WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg, brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Smart, took her with them for a trip to San Francisco to see the new bridges while they were here. The group also traveled to La Jolla to visit Mrs. Smart's daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Gay Cornwall and Flora Cornwall.

The guests here made many trips throughout Southern California during their two month visit on the Pacific coast.

Reception Is Given Miss Obarr

Two hundred guests were bidden to a delightful open-house and reception given yesterday afternoon and evening to honor Miss Dorothy Obarr, who will become the bride of Cecil Aker, jr., on Sept. 1. Mrs. James Nuckolls, Mrs. Ernest Layton and Mrs. Cecil Aker were hostesses at the affair, held in the home of the latter.

Guests were received by Mrs. Aker in soft green lace, Mrs. Layton in tealose lace, and Mrs. Nuckolls in delicate chiffon, each of whom wore lovely corsages, pink blossoms in the afternoon and gardenias in the evening.

The guest of honor was crowned in a picturesque frock of rose taffeta, and her mother, Mrs. W. A. Obarr, wore a pretty flowered chiffon afternoon gown in blue tones.

Tea, punch and dainty cakes were served from two attractive tables spread with Venetian lace and centered with lovely bouquets of pink larkspur and baby's-breath from which rose tapers in the shell tones that characterized the party. Presiding over these tables were Miss Audrey Barnes, in white organza; Miss Violet Rogers in red and white dotted sheer; Miss Frances Nuckolls in black and white formal; Miss Helen Fine, in cinnamon lace; and Miss Martha Heemstra, also in red and white organza. The group was augmented in the evening by the Misses Margaret and Martha Goodwin in silver taffeta; Miss Alice Upson in a flowered sheer; and Miss Hazel Schwarm, in tealose taffeta. Mrs. T. S. Hunter was also a charming assistant in serving the many guests.

Both afternoon and evening were climaxed when guests strolled into the lovely garden of the Aker home and witnessed the presentation of a pink wagon loaded with dainty gifts for the bride-to-be. Officiating at this charming gesture was diminutive Miss Betty Jo Hunter, wearing a dainty little frock of pink.

Potpourri of New Books Now Available at Library

By ETHEL WALKER

Books which will go into circulation tomorrow at the Santa Ana public library include the following—a potpourri of recent publications having an appeal to a wide variety of preferences.

WORLD AFFAIRS

We mention first Andre Maurois' "Miracle of England," an important book by an eminent writer. It is a history of England's progress and development to her present high position. Another book on the English scene "Coronation Commentary," by Geoffrey Dennis, needs little comment! Regardless of the threatened suit by the Duke of Windsor, the book seemed mild and innocuous, certainly not gossip of libelous nature. The book has much that is of value concerning British tradition and ceremonies.

"Peruvian Pageant," by Blair Niles is the "conquest" re-written with a modern appeal by a well-known authority on South American affairs.

A fine contribution to western

Americana is Flannery Lewis' "Suns Go Down," the reminiscences of the author's grandmother, now ninety, who went to Virginia City, Nev., as a runaway bride, from New England, and who lived through the rise and decline of the famous "boom town."

"As I Live and Breathe," by Mrs. W. S. Laidridge, is just as the author says, "a year out of my life put into a book," but the book itself "lives and breathes" and becomes a real experience for the reader. The author is a true daughter of the South, the wife of one of the managers of the "Louisville Courier Journal & Times."

"We Cover the World" is a symposium by 16 of the outstanding American news writers. Each writes out of his own particular experience on the modern news-front, whether it be India as in the case of Negley Farson or the France of Mary Knight's "American reporter in Paris."

The years have not dimmed the vision of G. F. Williston, author of

PROTEST DEATH OF 11 WORKERS

MEXICALI, Lower Calif. (AP)—Mexican labor unions today had on file with the chief of communications and transportation at Mexico City, a protest against conditions which they charged were responsible for a wreck of a work train which resulted in 11 deaths.

A mile-long funeral procession, including an estimated 6000 mourners, yesterday attended the funeral of the 11 workmen, killed in the wreck on the Punta Tencasco railway in Sonora Tuesday. Orations were delivered by representatives of various labor unions.

In their protest, telegraphed to the Mexico City official, the union spokesmen charged the engineers in charge of construction of the railway are inexperienced students whom they held responsible for the wrecked train and working conditions.

"Why Wars Are Declared." Since his participation in the World War, he has been interested in history and economics and has taught these subjects. In this diatribe against war, the writer is very eloquent and a little bitter.

SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC

"Prison Life is Different," is by Warden Johnston of Alcatraz, previously serving as warden of both San Quentin and Folsom prisons. In this book, he writes of the various criminal personalities he has known, the effect of prison life, possible reforms, etc.

"Collectivism: A False Utopia," by W. H. Chamberlain, is a sober plea for liberalism, for individual freedom. The author was correspondent in Russia for the Christian Science Monitor for 10 years and has written several books on Russia. In the present volume he points the flaws in both Communism and Fascism.

"Spenders All," by Ernest Greenwood, written in popular style by a Washington journalist is all about taxation. The author has been correspondent in Geneva and has also served as a member of the Board of Education of the District of Columbia, so is quite sure that he knows a lot about the subject.

AVIATION

"Aircraft Yearbook for 1937" covers the subject thoroughly from the technical as well as the flight angle.

"Test Pilot" by Jimmy Collins, has all the thrills that the "high spots" of a celebrated pilot's experience might provide. "Jimmy" begins, quite properly, with his birth in 1904 in Warren, O., giving important details of his development rather sketchily until his arrival at Wright Field in Columbus Ohio in 1925. You are in the air with him most of the time after that, and from Columbus to San Diego to San Antonio in fact to most of the important fields in the U. S. with plenty of excitement and thrills in between is all that any enthusiast, young or old, could ask for.

MATHEMATICS

Any book about mathematics which can reach fifth place in the list of non-fiction best sellers is something which must be rather special. Such a book is "Mathematics for the Millions," by L. T. Hogben, which has that distinction. It sketches the historical development of the science and describes the part played by mathematics in the everyday work of the world.

"Introduction to Mineralogy," by A. F. Rogers is a new edition of an older book which contains much new and up-to-date material.

HUMOROUS

The humorous side of travel is well described and illustrated with cartoons by J. N. Darling (Ding) in his "Crucible of the Bouncing Betty," a six day trip which he makes, as most trailer trips do, "with a family argument long before either party to the controversy knows anything about trailers or has ever stepped inside of one."

In "Orchids on Your Budget" Marjorie Hiss, author of "Live Alone and Like It," has again made the everyday and practical seem more gay and glamorous and has thereby provided a bit of delightful diversion.

NEW NON-FRICTION

New non-friction is "On Inspection" for one week, giving the patrons the opportunity to examine the books if they care to do so. The above books will go into circulation Saturday, July 24. The group is typical of the varied selection which is put into circulation every other Saturday, usually the 2nd and 4th of each month.

FICTION

Over 150 new titles in fiction have been added since Jan. 1, 1937. These include mystery stories; western and romances; novels of literary merit; a few that are humorous, some historical novels and the ever present "modern type" which too often is used as a medium for propaganda. There seems to be a wide variety to please all tastes.

EPISODE 7—"VIGILANTES"

"MARIETTA" AT BROADWAY

"Naughty Marietta," adventure-romance of the Creole days in New Orleans, which opened last night at the Broadway theater, will show for the last times tomorrow night, it was announced today by Manager Lester J. Fountain.

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, noted singers, are co-starred in the dramatic production, which features the gorgeous music of Victor Herbert's greatest opera and new lyrics by Gus Kahn. This picture has been revived because of its great popularity, it was stated. The prominent cast includes Frank Morgan, Douglas Dumbrille, Joseph Cawthorne, Cecilia Parker, Walter Kingsford, Akim Tamiroff and others.

Second feature on the program is "The Great Hospital Mystery," in which an unseen terror stalks the white corridor of a mad-house until a nit-wit nurse turns mystery into hilarity. The cast includes Janie Sell, Sally Blane and Thomas Beck.

About Folks

Mr. Byron F. Mock, for the past two years health officer for the city schools, has decided to re-enter general practice, and is located at Hemet, Calif. The Mocks have been residing at 214 Owens Drive. Before coming to Santa Ana they resided at San Clemente.

Chester Dale, stricken at his North Main street office several days ago, is showing slight improvement. Mr. Dale is prominent in Democratic affairs of Orange county and the state, being head of the local California Assembly of Democrats.

Floyd Bloese, who resides at Spurgeon and 17th streets, has returned from a visit with friends in San Jose.

THE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

By DONALD BUTTON

It must be the fog! At any rate, these cool mornings carry me over into pleasurable anticipation for fall.

Not fall with setting back into firsides routine, the short days and longer nights, but autumn, with fairs and festivals, a full schedule of exhibitions.

First on the list is Laguna's anniversary exhibition, starting Aug. 1, given added impetus with the announcing of an $100 prize.

Election of officers at the Beach Gallery is scheduled for Saturday evening, Aug. 14.

There is strong possibility the Goodwin-Ames mural mosaics for Newport Harbor Union High school will be in place, available to the public, at this same time.

Santa Ana's library will note the placing with a special exhibit, largely photographic, depicting the progress of the mosaics from projected drawing to completion.

Another of those very interesting Federal Art project exhibitions is scheduled for Stendahl's early in September.

Federal Art will have its Santa Ana showing with lithographs early in October. This follows upon talented and rising Milford Zornes' water-color show at the library.

Going back to September, Pomona fair will have the most extensive art show in its history with the dedication of the new Fine Arts building there.

Millard Sheets, acting in directorial capacity, has assembled an exhibition that will include every celebrated contemporary American artist. The list reads like a "Who's Who."

Lynton Kistler is aiding in getting together an equally significant lithography show for the opening there.

The Pomona fair showing is, I think, to be regarded as greater incentive and inspiration, rather than retrogression, for the creative people of this area. None will want to miss it!

September will be time, too, for resuming adult education classes. Those taking the summer craft classes now in session will want to carry through the winter, gain by continued activity.

Clare Cronenwett's classes were, for so many of us, introduction to so delightful a subject we should

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

— By —

ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Divorce rumors in filmland spread like blazes. Usually the principals, even if there's no divorce, know where the rumors started. But Neil Hamilton never did, until the other day when the long arm of coincidence reached out.

It was five years ago that rumor had Neil and Elsa spitting. It took them six months of steady denying—and that's hard work in Hollywood—to convince the gossips otherwise. When they returned from England recently, the story was so dead nobody thought of it—not even Neil—until he visited a desert ranch near here and met Neil Hamilton.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

The other Neil Hamilton is a ranch worker. Before the actor departed the ranch, Neil confided his belief that he'd been the unwitting cause of the rumors in Hollywood. The ranch Hamilton had divorced his wife about that time, and it was then the Hollywood Hamilton started getting inquiries.

"And I know that explains it," says the Hollywood Neil, "because take a few lessons in how an actor and Elsa came from that very region!"

Neil and Elsa have been away two years. They are living at the beach because Garbo has rented their house, but they probably will be returning to England in the fall anyway. Unless Neil accepts that African stage tour, in which case he'll polish up his magic—"I'll use that to compensate for any lack of histrionics the customers might notice."

It struck me, seeing Hamilton again, that Robert Taylor might take a few lessons in how an actor's handsome actor deals with the fatal curse of beauty. It wasn't so long ago that Hamilton, who actually did pose for collar-ads once, was getting the same unfeeling course of "treatment" at the hands of the forgetful. Don't know that anybody ever called Neil "pretty"—you don't when you know him, anyway—but for a long time the collar-ads curse lay on him heavily. Just as it lay, in his time, on the late Wallace Reid.

HOPES THEY LAST

So I thought I'd learn—from

EARLY MATINEE FOR SATURDAY

For the benefit of early shoppers and people from out of town, "Saratoga," the last picture ever made by Jean Harlow, will be shown at a special matinee at the West Coast theater tomorrow, it was announced today by Manager Lester J. Fountain.

The special matinee will go on promptly at 1 p. m. with "Saratoga" showing at that time. The second performance of the matinee will be at about 3:45 p. m. Despite rumors to the effect that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio officials plan to halt showing of "Saratoga," Manager Fountain said that he will screen the picture until it closes its run here next Tuesday night.

"Saratoga" offers Jean Harlow a memorable role in a picture filled with thrills, vivid emotions, conflict, excitement and romance. She plays the part of a spoiled daughter of a rich stable owner, who meets her match in Clark Gable, a bookmaker and racing man. Others in the cast include Lionel Barrymore, Una Merkel, Frank Morgan, Walter Pidgeon and Cliff Edwards.

Second feature on the bill is "Born Reckless," featuring Brian Donley, Rochelle Hudson, Robert Kent and Barton MacLane. This is a fast-paced and thrilling drama in which Donley uses a bullet-proof taxicab to smash the attempts of vicious racketeers to extort money from the legitimate taxi business.

Selected short subjects include a color cartoon, "Wayward Pups," from the M-G-M studio, and World News events.

CHAPTER XXXV

THAT evening, in a small Colorado town, a haggard Dale returned to his hotel after a three-days absence in the mountains. He felt he shouldn't have come into town even now—the day and night shifts at the quarry worked faster when he was there to urge them on—but he had to get some rest, and there might be a letter from Patty Lou.

Those dreary days of toil and discouragement would have been so much easier if she had only answered his letters. It wasn't like her not to do so. Had something happened to her? He had been filled with all kinds of vague fears. Only the realization of what this granite meant to his father—to the company—had kept him from rushing home.

"Mr. Northcutt!" The hotel clerk called to Dale as he entered the lobby.

"Yes?" Dale hurried to the dame up to the desk.

"I've a wire for you, sir."

Dale's hand, reaching for the envelope, was not quite steady. Perhaps it was from Patty Lou! A message from her at last! His nervous fingers tore the envelope, unfolded the sheet. His eyes moved swiftly over the message:

EVERYTHING ALL RIGHT. COME HOME AT ONCE, DAD.

"GREAT!" Dale exclaimed, then laughed as the clerk regarded him curiously. "I guess," he defended, "a fellow has a right to exclaim when he's so darned homesick."

"Bet there's a girl waiting," the clerk hazarded, with a smile.

"Just then, a messenger boy came up to the desk."

"Telegram for Mr. Dale Northcutt," he said, shoving a signature book toward the clerk.

"He's right here," the clerk replied.

Dale signed for the second wire and opened it. He read:

THERE'S BEEN A HOT TIME IN THE OLD TOWN STOP. LEARNED FROM YOUR OFFICE YOU ARE COMING HOME STOP. HOPE YOU CAN RUSH FOR PATTY LOU'S SAKE STOP WHEN YOU ARRIVE SEE ME AT MY APARTMENT FOUR SIX ONE FAIR COURT ALICE CARR

Dale read the cryptic message twice. What did it mean? It seemed to confirm his fears that something had happened to Patty Lou, that that was the reason he had not heard from her.

WOMAN WITH 11 ALIASES NABBED HERE

Phoney Check Charge Lodged By Police

Ludie A. Shiflett, who is alleged to have 11 other names ranging from Myrtle Gordon to Marie Wilson, pulled the last of her ingenious wool over Santa Ana merchants' eyes last Friday.

Yesterday police came to the end of a trail of 11 fictitious $5 checks which Miss Shiflett is said to have been cashing in local stores since March 30.

Caught with two assertedly phoney checks in her possession, she confessed to her money raising scheme, police officers said.

The charge against her was made doubly serious when it was found that she had violated probation in Los Angeles county where she had been convicted of forgery in March.

Miss Shiflett's course of action was to write fictitious checks for $5 and make such a display of honesty that merchants never refused her request, according to police.

Her aliases on the checks were Myrtle Gordon, Myrtle Davis, Dorothy Davis, Cora Williams, Edith Maxwell, Velma Wilson, Cora Maxwell, Ethel Madison, Marie Wilson, Helen Mitchell, and Marie Wilson.

After Detective Lieutenant C. W. Wolford and Detective Hunter Leach had arrested the woman, her home at 401 East Fifth street was searched and two other stubs for checks were found. She gave her age as 41 and occupation as housekeeper.

"I was hard up and needed money," was her explanation for her action, police officers said.

Records show that she was arrested here in 1928 on a forgery count, and that the case was dismissed.

De Valera foe seeks support of Irish in U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Fiery Sean Russell has moved his war for Irish independence over to the American front.

Declaring Eamon de Valera to be a "puppet of the English crown," Russell is touring this country to rally Irish-Americans to his Clann Na Gael. Through it he hopes to unseat the Irish Free State president and establish a completely independent nation.

As a major general in the Irish Republican army, Russell says he is subject to arrest if apprehended in Ireland, as are his 10,000 followers. But with American moral and monetary support he hopes to turn the tables on his old enemy de Valera.

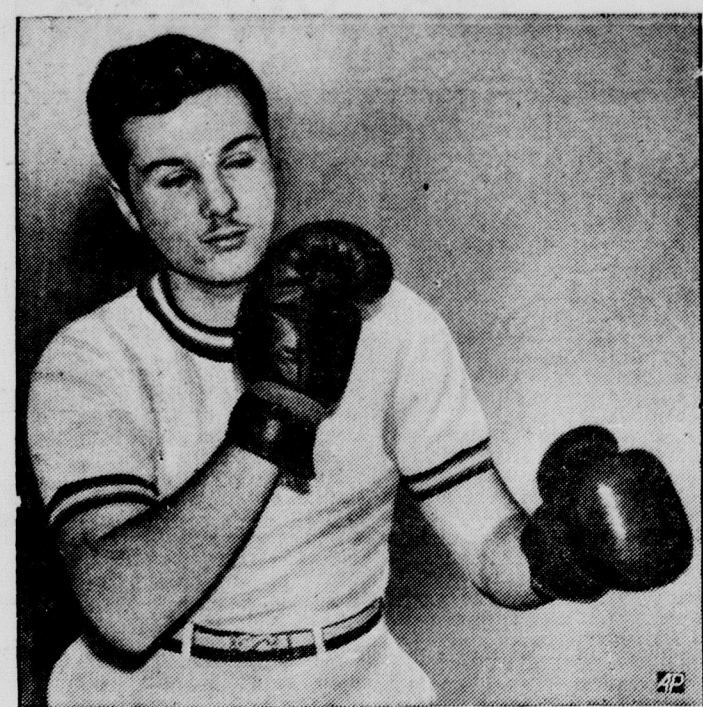

Most thrilling moment in the guerrilla's life came in 1922, when he watched five of his followers executed by a firing squad with his own turn next. A reprieve arrived just in time.

"Facing death under those circumstances is not bad—not as bad as a toothache," Russell said. "When you are dying as a patriot a spirit of exaltation, of dignity, comes to you. Your mind is at rest."

"The reprieve was a greater shock than the sentence of death."

Egyptian Coronation Will Be A Sales Talk

A princely art, too. This is Farouk, then a prince, boxing at school in Kendry, Eng., just before his father died last year and the lad was recalled to Cairo.

CAIRO. (AP)—Young Farouk I, successor to the Pharaohs, has a strong will and broad dominions. His coronation on July 31 will rival that of King George VI for pageantry.

But Farouk's strong will will avail him nothing and there's little he can do about his broad dominions. Even his coronation will be more a name than a fact. There is no crown for the King of Misr (Arabic for Egypt), Lord of Nubia and the Sudan, and sovereign of Kordofan and Darfour.

The British ambassador, Sir Miles Lampson, always will be in the background to "advise" him. HE HAS A FAMILY.

And he has a family. Before coronation arrangements had been completed, Cairo was speculating on how far the older members of the young king's family would vie with him in palace politics.

But the second coronation ceremony of 1937 will be brilliant, nevertheless. It has been made so with a purpose. It's going to be a lot like England's ceremony of May 12, and one of the similarities is that it will be staged for effect.

The Near East is susceptible and Egypt wants to convey the idea of how important she will be in eastern councils, especially since she has Britain's backing. It is hoped the ceremony will offset the influence of Italian propaganda among Mohammedan countries.

The 17-year-old king, only son of the late King Fuad, was in London, studying, when his father died in April, 1936. He was recalled to Cairo. He has a frank, pleasant disposition and likes western sports.

His coronation will be held in the El Rifai mosque, venerated as is Westminster Abbey. The ceremony will be conducted by Egypt's Archbishop of Canterbury, the sheikh Moustafa El Maraghi.

The ruler will be surrounded by nobles and dignitaries. In a setting of oriental solemnity rivaled only by the courts of India's great maharajahs, Farouk will swear, on the Koran, the oaths the caliphs of old took—to defend Islam, obey the Koran and fight for his people.

FIRST OF NEW ERA. The climax will arrive when the boy king, waiting alone under thousands of hanging brass lamps, over the tombs of his forefathers,

Road Signs Refute Sunshine

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Tourists no longer will be fooled into attempting a before-breakfast hike to Pikes Peak, thinking it only a mile or two away.

The city engineers department has decided to post the road with signs showing the exact mileage. The peak is about 15 miles from the city.

In the clear, brilliant sunshine of mile-high altitude the peak sometimes appears to be only two or three miles from town.

Surprise Package—It's a Snake

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A snake was excess baggage so far as Florence Chamberlain was concerned.

She discovered it when she opened a package of pottery she ordered from Mexico.

The snake was a bright colored one with stripes of green and orange. It apparently had made a trip from Mexico inside the package.

Builds Own Boat For World Cruise

SHELTON, Wash. (AP)—George Harley Cousins, 68-year-old carpenter, has launched his first boat—the 37-foot sloop "Patience." He hopes to sail around the world.

Cousins built the boat from plans in a magazine. He has never sailed anything larger than a row-boat before.

sees the aged sheikh approach with the sacred, jeweled sword of Mohamed Ali the Great, founder of the dynasty. Then he will be girt with the sword.

That will be the "coronation" which is expected to cement the phase of Anglo-Egyptian relations inaugurated last December by the treaty in which Britain accorded "independence" to Egypt.

MORE INTEREST IN CIVIC-STATE AFFAIRS URGED BY STEWART

MAYORS HEAR ADDRESS AT CLEMENTE

Municipality Leaders Will Create Interest

SAN CLEMENTE.—A. I. Stewart, member of the board of directors of Pasadena, urged more attention to local government affairs and friendly criticism of city government in a speech before members of the Orange County League of Municipalities here last night.

He compared the taxpayer to a stockholder in a corporation, and city councilmen to directors in urging more interest by the average man in government. Stewart also recommended uniformity in city license taxes, saying the many different tax rules cause a great deal of confusion.

Mayor Charles A. Mann of Anaheim spoke in favor of a "yes" vote at next Tuesday's flood control bond election, and on motion of City Attorney B. Z. McKinney of San Clemente the 50 members attending put themselves individually on record as favoring the bond issue.

Mann also spoke in favor of home rule in government, warning against too great a centralization with the state. Mayor Fred Rowland of Santa Ana, president of the group, was in charge of the meeting at the Wayside Inn. Mayor Dan Mulholland of San Clemente welcomed the guests.

News About El Toro Folks

By MRS. CARRIE G. DREWS

Bennie W. Osterman's neighbors and friends are glad to see him home again, after spending several (five weeks) in the hospital.

C. F. Stuart, Santa Fe agent of El Toro, has been transferred to La Mirada, where he will make his future home.

Richard F. Harris, who has made his home here for many years, and served as principal of the El Toro Grammar school for the last three years, has accepted the same position in the Olive school, which has seven teachers in all.

Marston E. Jones of Orange will be our principal this coming school year. He has been teaching in Blythe these last three years.

It was Mr. and Mrs. Charlie M. Salter's 54th wedding anniversary July 15, 1937, and they were made honored guests for the day at the Saturday Saints' reunion, being held in Laguna Beach. The happy bridegroom told of their first meeting at a Valentine party over at Gospel Swamp, not known as Greenville. Of how he and his brother, Eugene Salter, left the next morning for Colorado on horseback, returning in two years to hunt for the girl he could not forget.

He found her, Miss Tiney Hemenway, living in the log cabin, which still stands, in Laguna canyon, not far from the beach.

Among the nearly 600 present that day, they found five others who attended that same party some 56½ years ago. They were Mrs. Molly Walker Damron of Santa Ana, Mrs. Addie Burton Mathews, Santa Ana; Mrs. Dora Burton Howland, Los Angeles; Mrs. Annie Bets Burton, Long Beach, and Rev. Levi Hemenway, Wilmar.

We congratulate you, too, Mr. and Mrs. Salter.

DANGER OF FLOODS TOLD

ORANGE.—A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana, president of the state chamber of commerce, spoke before the Rotary club Thursday, saying that no campaign would be needed to put over the $2,500,000 bond issue if every one could have seen the floods that Orange county has had in the past.

"There have always been floods in the county and there always will be floods," he continued, citing growth rings in Redwood trees as accurate signs of wet and dry seasons for as far back as 2000 years. Anaheim, which is in the path of the Santa Ana river and 16 feet below the level of the river, was shown to be greatly in danger of floods as were Buena Park, Garden Grove, Westminster and Midway City.

Other speakers were N. E. West, H. E. Riley from the board of supervisors and Dan Gardner, president of the Orange County farm bureau.

Subscription rates: By mail, $7.50 a year; by carrier, 45 cents a month; from newsboys and news stands, 3 cents a copy. Why the Dams Have Openings

A misunderstanding seems to exist in the minds of a few of our good citizens about the openings in the dams that the federal government plans to build for Orange county.

United States army engineers will build those eight flood control and water conservation dams. And they know their business. There are permanent openings in the dams. But they are a necessary part of the dams.

For example, without these openings, how would you get the water down here where it is needed? Would you pump it over the top of the Prado dam on the Santa Ana river? That would not only be impractical; it also would be expensive. You must have the openings to allow the water to come down into the river channel where it can be sunk into the underground basin for future use.

So these permanent openings in the dams—and there is but one such opening in each dam—are needed to bring the water where it is needed, down to the farmers and to domestic water users.

Sizes of these openings were designed by the engineers from a study of the capacity of the channels below the dams. It is necessary that no more water come out of the reservoirs than the channels can handle. Otherwise there would be no flood control. And we would not have flood control if the dams were allowed to fill up with water and remain so until another heavy rainstorm came along.

The permanent openings in the dams will not interfere with the water which Orange county has been getting from flow down the Santa Ana river. But they will check back the flow enough to afford complete flood protection and to prevent valuable water from going to waste in the ocean.

The Prado dam on the Santa Ana river, major unit in the county-wide program, is designed for both flood control and water conservation, two things that Orange county vitally needs. In the case of the Santiago dam above Santa Ana, the height to be added is strictly for flood control. The present dam is of no value for flood control when full of water. This much is obvious. But when it is made higher, complete flood control for the territory below the dam will be afforded.

Uncle Sam is offering Orange county a bargain such as never was hoped for. He will spend $12,748,000 to build the eight dams. United States army engineers will control the money.

What voters of Orange county should do is express their appreciation by voting a heavy majority for the water bond issue next Tuesday.

Headline: "Four Kings Called to Aid Palestine." Sounds like a good game.

$10,000 Lesson in City Planning

Santa Ana's failure to profit from a $10,000 zoning lesson 10 years ago is coming home to roost.

The city spent that sum in 1927 for an expert zoner. But little attention was paid to his lessons—so it looks as if another will have to be employed and more work and worry endured to prevent the city from growing up haphazardly like an unpruned ivy vine.

The really board, alarmed at the prospect of a heavy industry being allowed to establish itself on South Main street, has asked that building permits be held up until another zoning expert has come in and had a look around.

The board is quite justified in its request. South Main is not zoned for heavy industry. In fact, only parts of Main street, north and south, were zoned for business of any kind. West First street, too, originally, had its limitations. It was set aside for a residential district. But a casual look at either one of those streets is enough to indicate how little the zoning laws have been followed.

Work that the previous zoning expert did was not 100 per cent wasted, however. For his zoning ordinances can be used as a groundwork, when and if another zoner is hired by the city. And this foundation may cut the cost below another $10,000.

We pity the fools but forget about the people who have to put up with them.

Government Stability Is Saved

"Glory be to God," exclaimed Senator Hiram Johnson of this golden state when Senator Logan announced that the supreme court packing plan is now out of the way.

Hiram Johnson—a fighting patriot if California ever had one—expresses the feelings of millions more westerners.

The people of America may be dynamic, quick-thinking and ever ready for needed changes—but they want no change which would destroy the fundamental rock upon which our representative democracy is based.

Three correlated, but independent branches of government—the legislative, the judicial and the executive—have preserved the civil liberties of this nation through 150 years filled with domestic and foreign perils.

This balanced arrangement should not be disturbed.

No matter who is on the supreme court, they will always have to try the Scottsboro case again.

Laguna Art Fete Worth Attending

Laguna's artists have been on the receiving end of jibes and jokes so long that it's about time to pay them a tribute.

Annually loyal Lagunans stage their "Festival of Arts," which this year will open July 30 on the Woman's clubhouse grounds. Visitors from all parts of the world have proclaimed past performances outstanding from a cultural standpoint, pointing to the fact that no other art function in the country draws such crowds or offers such attractions.

Again this year the festival will be featured by the glorious "living pictures," which invariably bring gasps of awe and pride from visitors. Music, entertainment and many individual exhibits will be a part of the colorful fiesta.

Go to the festival and soak up a bit of Laguna culture.

PAPER PROFITS FOR NEW DEAL FOES

WASHINGTON.—What will the loss of the supreme court enlargement fight do to Roosevelt? Some think this failure will prove a fatal blow to the President's prestige. Not all, but some of his opponents thought this was the issue upon which they would break him, once and for good. Republicans, who by mole-like work contributed no little underground aid and comfort to the Democratic opponents of Roosevelt, thought so. They saw the Democrats splitting and dreamed of a future coalition which would undertake the ultimate destruction of the New Deal. Some opposition Democrats believed that by defeating Roosevelt they could shatter his prestige that they could ride into control of the party in 1940 and bag the presidential nomination. All through this fight, visions of sugar plums danced in their heads. Such are the paper profits now being calculated.

NO WATERLOO AHEAD

But like so many paper profits, these are liable to fade and disappear before they can be realized. Especially if Roosevelt has learned well the lesson of this mistake. True, Democrats in congress are embittered toward each other. But soon they will leave on a long recess, and take a change of air. They will be back next January, rested fresh, and facing the 1938 elections, longing for peace, patronage and pork. There is not likely to be any Waterloo waiting for Roosevelt when he returns from this Elba, unless he insists upon creating one.

VICTORY IN DEFEAT

This defeat does break the legend of Roosevelt the super-politician, if that is any calamity. The court fight has been marked by one blunder after another. The major blunder was that Roosevelt failed to see when he had won his fight. He was so set upon driving through the court enlargement bill that he did not see that the court itself had swung around and that this, plus the Van Dantner retirement, gave him the essence of what he sought to accomplish with his bill. Now Senator Borah is passing around the word that as soon as the heat is turned off, Justice Sutherland will retire. If that happens, Roosevelt will thus add two members to the court, providing as safe a margin as he could fairly ask.

So that the real difficulty, the obstacle to enactment of social and economic legislation, is for all practical purposes dissolving, rendering the court itself more and more academic so far as any effect upon the court would be felt. But while thus actually achieving what he sought, Roosevelt allowed the bill itself to become an obsession. For once he was fixed as to method. In the process he became over-aggressive and some pretty rough trampling of conscientious objectors was attempted.

A perfect politician would have accepted the real victory at the end of this court term and have let the bill go gracefully into the pigeon-hole. He would have been glad to sacrifice the form to win the substance. This will be marked down as an error on history's record of Roosevelt, and it will gnaw at his pride perhaps. But that need be no catastrophe for him.

CAN'T KEEP HIM DOWN

Roosevelt's defeat comes early in his second term. Resilient and buoyant, he is not likely to let this keep him down for long. With the overhanging threat of persistent judicial vetoes steadily receding, he can look ahead to three and a half years in which to continue progress toward his objectives, supported still by large majorities in congress and by much popular strength.

And if, to complete the program which he has begun, he profits by this experience, operates more closely with leaders in congress than he did for a time, and takes more care with his work, his failure in this instance will sink into insignificance beside the monument which he will leave on the face of this nation.

If one blunder dooms a man to failure, who in this world would be a success.

The Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON.—There has been no exaggeration about reports that the President is worried over the Japanese-Chinese conflict. In private talk with his state department advisors he has indicated that he is more worried about this than about any other problems facing him.

The two chief factors which cause worry are: 1. Fear that war between Japan and China will spread to the rest of the world. Should Russia come into the fray against her traditional enemy, Japan, then Japan's ally Germany would immediately follow, and the fat would be in the fire.

2. More immediate is necessity of the United States declaring an arms embargo against both Japan and China under the neutrality act. This would mean a tremendous handicap to China and none at all to Japan, for Japan has ample armament and war supplies while China has almost none.

Among the President's advisors it is felt that this advantage should not be thrown to Japan if there is any way to get around it. They consider China a traditional friend of the United States, while Japan's imperialistic ambitions and her plans for the division of China—to put it mildly—are not ideals which the United States wants to further.

That is why every telegram from American envoys in the Orient is sent to the White House immediately, and why Roosevelt gets a personal report from state department experts at least twice a day.

SOL'S CONSTITUTION Tammany Congressman Sol Bloom, jocular, diamond-sporting ex-theatrical magnate, has been known in the past as the Man Who Made George Washington famous. He is now known as the Man Who Would Be President.

Sol is a shrewd operator. A few years ago he grabbed several hundred juicy plums through the George Washington Bicentennial commission. There were other members on the commission, but Sol ran the show and dished out the jobs.

The commission lasted several years and cost taxpayers more than $500,000, including the cost of 5000 plaster casts of the Father of His Country at $4.50 each, which Sol distributed.

Sol never forgot those lush days and later revived them with a new idea, the U. S. constitution sesquicentennial commission.

As chairman of the commission, Sol lobbied through congress a $200,000 grant to finance preparations for celebrating in September, 1937, the 150th anniversary of the signing of the constitution. With this cozy nest-egg he swung into action and in a short time had rented 10 offices, assembled a staff of 54 employees, all selected by himself. He even published under his personal copyright 250,000 copies of a booklet entitled "The Story of the Constitution."

To critics, Sol replied that the reason the pamphlet bore his name was to distinguish it from other books dealing with the constitution and to prevent business firms from using it for advertising purposes.

Two hundred thousand dollars is a lot of money, but when Sol comes to the aid of the constitution he spares no expense.

PLUGGING THE SOURCE

(San Diego Sun)

Judge J. M. Braude of the Chicago boys' court declares that the "three G's"—gin, gas and girls—are bringing more erring youngsters into his court these days than ever before.

More important, he announces that hereafter, when juveniles are brought in for driving while under the influence of liquor, he will proceed against the tavern owners and saloon keepers who have been selling them booze.

No one can fail to wish him success in this campaign, or to hope that he deals out the stiffest penalties the law provides. It is impossible to think of any excuse for the man who sells liquor to a minor.

A joint where such sales take place should be closed permanently, in short order.

It is about the worst kind of public nuisance that can possibly exist.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY

To the Editor: Next Tuesday Orange county will have an opportunity to vote.

1. Flood control rendering impossible repetitions of floods that have imperiled and damaged local areas in the last 50 years.

2. Conservation of water in re-tiling basins and releasing it gradually, so that porous sand and gravel in river channels will absorb it and divert it into underground basins.

3. Soil conservation, saving top soil from erosion, and fertile land along banks of streams from repeated destruction by floods.

4. Work for a large number of men for two or three years, thereby lightening the cost of unemployment.

5. Putting in circulation millions of dollars when the income from frost injured citrus fruit crops will be less than normal.

All of these advantages may be procured at an expense of 17 cents on the dollar of benefits.

Eighty-five per cent of all water used in Orange county comes from underground basins. Every acre of irrigable land in Orange county, every industry, business, and resident, will benefit from an assured supply of water, without which this region will return to desert.

Receipts from all crops in Orange county last year were $33,854,365, and have been steadily rising since 1933. Nearly four-fifths of that income is derived from citrus fruit groves requiring an abundance of water.

Orange county's population is increasing and its cultivated area against flood more urgent, and ample supply of water more essential, whereas the water tables drop four feet each year.

The supply of water in underground basins is approaching the zero point, for competent engineers believe that if the water tables continue to fall, the hydraulic gradient which now slopes toward the ocean may be reversed, enabling salt water to enter the basins.

No such opportunity as is now offered to procure vital water conservation and flood control almost as a gift has ever before existed in this country, and the most optimistic could hardly hope that this gratuity will ever again be possible.

As such, we can continue to withstand the damage and peril of floods, proof is clear and convincing that the policy of neglect and waste as to water must end. Orange county must choose between adequate water conservation, with incidentally flood damage, and government matching each $1 with $5, or possibly inadequate water conservation and flood control later, Orange county paying all of the expenses.

The yearly deterioration from waste of water, falling water tables and flood damage, and soil erosion, is estimated to exceed $1,000,000. It is as if thousands of $20 gold pieces rolled down our highways, past citrus fruit and walnut groves and cultivated fields, and on through our towns and cities, and into the sea.

Southern California has a climate that is incomparable and a soil of unsurpassed fertility, and we would be undeserving of these priceless heritages, if unwilling to act to eliminate flood damage and restore our dwindling supply of water—even when 83 per cent of the cost is bestowed as a gift, and all expenses are permanent investments yielding perpetual safety, use and benefit.

HE SAYS VOTE "NO"

To the Editor: Lest the argument of the proposed $2,500,000 bond issue becomes too one-sided, might there not be some very good reasons for voting "no" for the fourth time?

The people in the growing towns of Orange county are again being called upon for more water, principally for the benefit of the over-planted orange industry. It is common knowledge that there is a terrible waste of irrigation water. It is to be expected that new and larger groves are still being planted.

Cities along the coast and interior may also well consider the possibility of our domestic water wells being "killed" by installing certain dams above us. Of course, we would still have the recourse of seizing this irrigation water should we require it for domestic purposes.

Very little, if anything, is being said about the Prado dam to be built in Riverside county. This dam will not store a drop of water for it is to have a permanent opening.

The million and a half dam to be built on top of the already completed Santiago dam is also to be built with permanent openings and looks like a sheer waste of a vast sum of good money.

There is a big "no" side of this question, especially to the taxpayers in the cities of the county. C. H. WALKER, RD 1, Santa Ana.

BRIGHT MOMENTS

John Wilkes, the English statesman, fully understood the value of a friendly press, even during the 18th century. Once, when serving in the house, the members seemed resolved not to hear him, and a friend urged him not to force the issue. "Speak if you can," he replied. "For the speech has been in print in the newspapers this half hour!"

WHIMSIES

DAY BY DAY With O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK.—Thoughts while strolling: Add secret longings: To make one of those graceful little after-dinner talks like Frank Crowninshield. Song built for Ethel Merman: Johnny One Note. And how she could hold it! Variety calls the up-state summer hotel cabarets "The Bortsch Circuit."

Margaret Case Harriman is out front as a biographer. Keats Speed in summer flannels is a ringer for one of the figures like C. D. Gibson drawings. Sailing Barnum's name suggests a skater plunging through thin ice. And Burleigh Grimes a species of Kentucky tobacco.

The American Mercury dubs them: "Leftish Bards and Red Reviewers." Meaning the book critics who are slipping over hoarings for communism. King George's why-did-tha-have-to-happen, to me expression. Add moon-faced Irish boys with riddle hair parts. Ed Sullivan and Willie Moore.

Voices alike: Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Beatrice Lillie. You would think James Montgomery Flagg would look fagged out: once in awhile. But always he's as fresh as a daisy. If, as they say, I resemble Ned Sparks, I'm going to try to acquire a snark. Something like Bob Hope's.

High hat note: Our Boston loves fresh string beans, but only sniffs at the canned. A breath of Killarney: Kitty Kendall, who always looks as though she is just about to scream at a garter snake. For newspaperdom's most perfectly groomed exhibit, my vote goes to Edwin C. Hill.

The seasonal villain-still-pursued-his-episode to enliven Broadway concerned the handsome prize fight-tenor Jack Doyle's chase for the highly publicized Libby Holman. It was touched off by wireless by Doyle on an incoming steamer in which both were arriving. At the pier Miss Holman gave out a fire-cracker statement intimating Doyle was less than a pain in the neck. The cynical lifted eyebrows to murmur: "Nice hunk of publicity for both." And so back and forth zing some scorches which give a relief from Tommy Manville's love affairs for a time.

There is more dining out in the chintzy Marie Antoinette and Petit Trianon tearooms than most people imagine. Thousands once satisfied with nothing less than Pierre's or The Colony seem content in the candle-lit glow of the side streets. There is a meadow brook, water cressy neatness and flavor of mignonette about these places that offer serenity and charm. Joseph Hergesheimer speaks of "the honey dew motif." Over most of them preside motherly women who seem actually anxious to have you enjoy the food.

I am told many home cooking places are "made" by specializing in soups. New York is reputedly the most avid soup-eating city in the world. Many restaurants say a tasty soup will put in new food dispensing venture in the chips. There must be a subtle propaganda in the big town for soup. Before coming here my soup indulgence was confined to Monday wash day bean soup. Something to be suffered, not enjoyed, passing years I find I do not enjoy a dinner that does not get off with a potage.

The fruit cocktail is another dinner left-off that has become almost indispensable. And is the most profitable delicacy on the menu. In the cheaper places tariff ranges from 20 to 30 cents, but in the tonier spots, reaching the grandeur of Grape Fruit Supreme, is often listed as high as 80 cents. And in one elegant eatery is boldly named $1.25. Most of them can be prepared for a few pennies—not more than a dime outside.

The oyster cocktail is attributed to a California miner and circumstances in 1888. The miner in from the desert found his favorite restaurant had nothing left for the day but oysters, a bottle of catsup and horse-radish. He mixed them up, adding salt and pepper and found it the most delectable dish ever encountered. Next day he opened a cocktail bar and made a fortune.

Memories: Odor of the first pair of new corduroy pants. Fooling the city slickers by carrying the buggy whip in your hand when you came to see the circus parade. Most of the white trash from across the tracks who peddled greens in the Spring. The old colored uncle with his whitewash bucket who came to "sweeten up" the cellar. (Copyright, 1937)

Dogs have highly sensitive ears. For training them without annoying the neighbors, a novel whistle, with a high frequency tone, is being used. The tone is easily heard by the dog, but is almost inaudible to human beings. The tone can be regulated by turning a little thumb screw, which is built into the end of the whistle.
